THE 1920 ILLIO

A YEAR BOOK
PUBLISHED BY THE
CLASS OF 1920 AT THE
UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

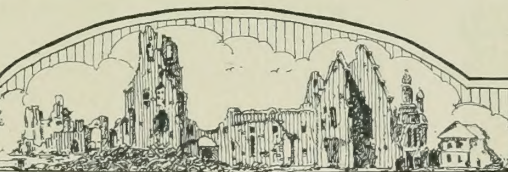

VOLUME TWENTY-SIX

THE WAR MEMOIR

To somehow catch the spirit of those fighting,
Illini who played such a major part in the great war and to imprison that inspiring message within our leather covers, that those who stayed at home and those who are to tread the halls of our University in days to come may know the full thrilling story... that is the purpose of the "Twenty" Illio.

The dead who have entered into the eternal life of the Nation
And walk before us and beside us forever
Clothed in everlasting light, and

The living, still with the colors on land and sea,
Or happily returned to us here
Wearing the stripes of honorable service—

The men of the University of Illinois
Who at the call of their country in the Great War,
Entering the Army and Navy of the United States
Offered all that they had and were
To prove the love that the children of America bear her
To lift the action of the Republic to the level of the wisest and the bravest
To establish the foundations of peace and justice
In the hearts of men and in the laws of Nations—
With pride in their great achievement and humility in this slight token of affection—
We dedicate this book...

ILLINOIS AT WAR

We of Illinois Have Fought A Good Fight

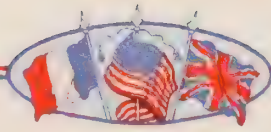

As Illinois men and women all over the world stack their guns and their knitting needles after four years in a war that everyday adjectives cannot describe, the words of St. Paul come back to us over and over: "I have fought a good fight."

Fighting a good fight, keeping the faith of true democracy, battling and dying for freedom and decency, all Illini have gone through trying times. One hundred and thirty-eight have joined the War's immortals, and many still living are shattered beyond recall—

But hardly so bad as that. Illinois spirit, clear-burning, still shines on.

Hell itself cannot put it out.

By CARL STEPHENS

A FEW VITAL FACTS

When the war ended, the University of Illinois had 8,190 men and women in the service.

Of this number, 4,994 were in the regular service, 3,116 were members of the S. A. T. C. at Champaign, and 80 women were scattered in various branches of the army and navy.

There were 4,012 men wearing the khaki of Uncle Sam, 564 the naval uniform, while 87 were members of the Marine Corps.

In Allied war work there were 146 representatives, with 265 in unknown branches of service.

The University may be proud of it's showing, 2,054 holding commissions, while 3,020 were non-commissioned officers and privates.

One-fifth of the commissioned officers were of the rank of captain or above.

Overseas service was seen by 1,159 Illini.

Thirty Illinois men wear the Distinguished Service Cross, the Croix de Guerre and other decorations for merited service. Many others have been included in company citations.

The casualty lists show that 138 Illini have given their lives in the battle for Democracy.

THE "TWENTY" ILLIO

Giants of the forest proved no barrier to the mighty tanks. No barrier except death stopped the fighting Illini.

Grim dogs of war, the giant battleships of Uncle Sam silently patrolled the mists of the channel.

Three days before the United States declared war, the Board of Trustees voted that Seniors might graduate if they were called to war before Commencement. This was the beginning of the cooperation between the University and the students who entered the service. Convocations, formation of intensive training units, recruiting of Battery F to full strength, and work of the Agricultural College were but a few of the many assistances given to help the nation to prepare for the great struggle. Men withdrew from school in great numbers to enter the service, either active military or on the farms. In May, 1917, the Illinois Ambulance Unit sailed for France. Preparations were made to house a School of Military Aeronautics. The entire University set itself for the great task before it.

Products of American skill, these eight inch howitzers boomed forth the doom of autocracy.

Saved by the grace of God.

Learning to love the crackle of radio.

Free from the torment of war, German prisoners harvest crops for the Allies.

Brushing off the dust of travel.

The hands have stopped, but victory is ours.

Dean H. V. Canter, actively engaged in Red Cross work, has helped stricken Italians.

Silent, but auspicious was the entrance into Metz.

It took more than a bit of sea sickness to overcome the desire to blot out autoocracy in Europe.

Dean H. W. Miller of the Engineering Department is now Major Miller and head of the Engineering Division of the Ordnance Department. He has his headquarters down at Tours and Lieutenants Bob Malley '15 and Ed Bullard '13 are on his staff.

On February 14, 1918, a University service flag with 2,686 stars on it, was dedicated to the men in the service. "This flag is a promise, not a memorial," said Professor Forbes. The number of stars was tripled before the armistice was signed.

As in ancient times the hills sheltered the cliff dwellers, so the hills of Chateau Thierry sheltered the soldiers of the Allies.

All serene, this giant of the air has many like it that have helped win the war.

Many Illinois men were on the U. S. S. Covington which was on its way with thousands of American soldiers towards France.

July 10, 1917 marked an epoch in the University's history when the famous Illini Battery, now of the 149th Field Artillery of the Rainbow Division, left for Fort Sheridan on the first lap of its trip to the Rhine. It was the start of a busy career for since February 25, 1918 when the organization took up its first position in the Lorraine sector it saw almost continuous service until the signing of the armistice. Fighting side by side with its valiant comrades of the famous Rainbow Division, the 149th, commonly known as "Reilly's Bucks", participated in all the great battles in which the Americans were engaged: Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel and Sedan. And the most remarkable part of the Battery's war record is that none of its men were seriously wounded and only one, a non-University man, was killed, and that, in the last three days of the conflict. So lucky was the organization, that it is commonly termed the "Horseshoe Battery" by the five other outfits of the regiment.

Battery F was organized in the University November 15, 1915 as a part of the First Illinois Field Artillery. Enlistments in it were accepted as a substitute for drill in the University Brigade. B. W. Benedict, director of the machine shop laboratories, was responsible for its formation. He subsequently received his commission as captain in the Illinois National Guard and remained in command until the organization got overseas in 1917, when he was transferred to a staff officers' school.

The organization got its first taste of service soon after its formation. It went to Homer Park for a summer camp June 12, 1916, and had only been there a week, when the entire National Guard of the nation was called out at the instance of the Villa fiasco in Mexico. The rest of the summer was spent at Fort Sam Houston and at the big artillery range at Leon Springs, Texas. On September 25, 1916 the organization was mustered out of Federal service.

Practically all the student soldiers re-entered school and pursued their studies until the Battery went into camp south of the Armory for a three weeks training period under Sergeant Herman Leprohn, U. S. A., near the end of school in 1917. The regiment was ordered out June 30, for service in the Great War and was mobilized Fort Sheridan. After a month or so here of comparative inactivity it was made the 149th U. S. Field Artillery of the Rainbow Division and ordered overseas. The division was mobilized at Camp Mills on Long Island and left for France on the U. S. Army transport President Lincoln, October 18, 1917.

After a twelve-day uneventful voyage, so far as submarines were concerned, it disembarked at St. Nazzaire, France. Camp Coetquidan in Brittany was the next stop. French 75's and the complement of horses were issued to the unit here and Captain Benedict left the battery, being transferred to the Staff Officer's School, Sinister blows were struck by Battery F on the western front.

Don McGinnis ex '20, was severely gassed along with other members of the University Unit. All recovered.

Lt. H. R. Stone of Chicago succeeding him in command of the University battery.

Leaving its training grounds early in February of 1918, the Division crossed France to Luneville. The members of Battery F were billeted in a large chateau in this city, while gun emplacements were prepared and while the cannoneers received their final training with some French artillerymen at the front. The guns were brought up into position February 25 and "F" began its ceaseless period of activity against the Huns. It remained in this position until the middle of March, the heaviest firing occurring on March 4 and 5, when it helped lay down a heavy barrage, while American infantrymen went over the top and brought in a considerable number of prisoners.

The regiment started for a rest in the middle of March and after a one day's hike the artillerymen arrived at Gerberville, when they were startled to learn of the great German victory of March 21. The Rainbow Division took over the first All-American sector at this point and held it against the Huns for 101 days. Pulling away from this point near the last of May, the Division took up a new position on Camp-de-Chalon formerly a French artillery range on the Champagne front.

The Division laid there until July 14, when another big German drive for Paris commenced. Fifteen Prussian Guard Divisions on the other side opposed the Rainbow and four French divisions on the allied side. After a three day's battle the crack Prussian regiments fell back in defeat. But a great battle was raging at Chateau Thierry. The Second Division with two regiments of Marines had smashed the German dream of capturing Paris, but it was worn out and badly shot up. The Rainbow division withdrew from the Champagne front and hurried to the rescue, taking up a position about five miles north of Chateau Thierry and in conjunction with the Vesle River wiping out the Salient and capturing Fismes. It was during this great campaign that "Vic" Stangel '19 of "F" brought down a German aeroplane with a machine gun from the ground.

Members of the 149th were given a short rest and many of the boys visited Paris. The University artillerymen report a great time in the French metropolis, but they certainly deserved it.

The Rainbow Division saw perhaps more service than any other American Division. The 149th Field Artillery is the most famous regiment of the division, and Battery F is the "Horseshoe Battery" of the Division. Surely it will be given a place of eternal pride and praise in the annals of the University.

Ready to send a note to the Germans, to the accompaniment of an oskey-wow-wow.

Even the dump heaps were camouflaged against impending aerial attacks.

Professor T. E. Oliver had the unique distinction of witnessing the process of devastation of Belgium. He left this country in August, 1915, and spent six months as a member of the Commission for Relief in Belgium, representing the University of Illinois. His work at Brussels, behind the German lines, kept him in constant contact with German officials. He was the recipient of several medals for his great work.

Filling in a big void in the life of the soldiers, the American University Union in Paris brought many Illini together for a bit of reminiscence.

Almost every activity possible for a woman to indulge in to assist the army and navy was taken care of by at least one or two Illinae. More than seventy-five women participated actively in war work, while many hundreds by their forbearance pushed on the work of the armies for a victorious peace. Red Cross nurses, camp librarians, canteen workers, in the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Salvation Army, and Knights of Columbus were but a few of the many activities aided by the fair women of the University. Even the naval field was invaded by the women, a considerable number joining the service as yeowomen. Dieticians and mail censors in foreign camps performed great deeds and further spread the fame of Illinois. The women spread their work throughout the United States and invaded foreign fields, assisting in England, France, Italy and on the Balkan front. Several members of the faculty answered the call of the government for trained helpers and served throughout the period of the war.

After arrival overseas with Battery F, Captain B. W. Benedict was transferred to the tank corps where he performed valuable service on the western front.

From the sandy marshes of Belgium came many bags of sand to protect the lives of soldiers in their billets.

Maybe the old sham battles in Urbana regions helped the engineers here.

Colonel R. R. Welshimer '06, left the student brigade at the declaration of war. After a stay overseas, he was sent to Ft. Monroe, Va., where, as commandant, he trained many Illini for duty.

"Slooie" Chapman '16, learned to face an enemy—and beat him—on the University football field while he was a member of the team during the seasons of 1913-14-15 and captain in 1915. He "carried on" his fight on the great western front in the big, victorious drive against the Germans in the early summer of 1918. On July 18, 1918, "Slooie" was riddled by machine gun fire sent from a low flying Hun plane, and received wounds which will sadly handicap his former vigorous and active life.

Five machine gun bullets tore through the lower part of the athlete's body and as a result, "Slooie" is limping today. His right leg, now stiff in the hip socket, is shorter than his left one. But this injury, which laid him on his back for six months, has not phased that indomitable smile which is still there in spite of all that "Slooie" has been through.

Lieutenant William E. Brotherton, ex-'17, had attained a reputation as a fearless pilot before he succumbed to a superior number of German planes on October 10, 1918 on the western front. Three planes and one balloon were officially credited to him before his last fight. He had penetrated far behind the German lines in pursuit of several Hun machines and in flying close to the ground was put out of commission by a superior number of Fokkers.

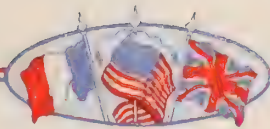

Never again will Lt. Laddie McKeown '16, conference champion, step the hurdles. As a result of a disastrous fall in France in the summer of 1918, he had 14 bones broken, a small brain concussion and subsequently lost his right foot. He has been confined to hospitals in France and the United States for the past ten months.

Laddie got into the flying game early, attending the Ground School at Champaign. From here he went directly to France where he was commissioned. His fall, 3,000 feet, resulting from a nose dive, cost the life of his companion, but Laddie had his old luck with him.

Lt. Harry K. Strauch, former instructor in the medical department at Chicago has been reported killed in action on the western front. He had several Hun machines to his credit before communication with him ceased. He enlisted early in the war in the aviation section and distinguished himself by his valorous action.

Credited with having shot down six German planes, Lieutenant Frank Hays ex-'19 is the first of the Illini aces. He wears the Distinguished Service medal for bravery in action.

Lieutenant Hays left college and the baseball diamond to enter the Aviation Corps. He saw active service on the Lorraine front from August, 1918, until the armistice was signed, bringing down six planes officially and several for which he has not been credited. One of his spectacular feats occurred on September 13. One of the group of five, he was attacked by seven Hun planes. His machine gun jammed, but successfully clearing this, he lodged his attackers and drove off several Huns who were embarrassing the flight commander. For this display of bravery he received his decoration.

Wearing the French decoration which shows three divisional citations, Capt. Lyle H. Gift '18, was one of the first Illini war veterans to return and visit the campus. Capt. Gift fell in the second battle of the Marne at Soissons on July 19, 1918, and, when he reached an evacuation hospital, was found to be suffering from wounds which necessitated the amputation of his right leg above the knee. He was sent to the United States to convalesce before the armistice was signed, and is now in the officer's headquarters at Camp Walter Reed hospital in Washington, D. C.

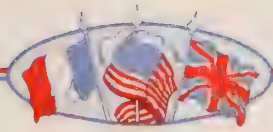

In memory of his great work in France, a city was named after William (Jack) Hamilton '17, by the people in the vicinity where his ambulance carried the wounded poilus. Enlisting in the ambulance service in July of 1917, he was soon after sent to France. Here he saw active service until May 4, 1918 when, near the village of Diaan, he was struck by a German shell and killed. Letters from the commander of the ambulance unit deplored his untimely death, and described the sincere sorrow shown by all the comrades of the dead hero.

"The American Army on the Archangel front is engaged in fighting the Bolshevik army. Frazier Hunt '08, is an American. Being such, his daring presence in Russia is that of an enemy within the lines. For moral and physical courage in risking his life to present news to the world this latest achievement of Frazier Hunt is unsurpassed in the journalism of the war." This tribute, by Floyd Gibbons, typifies the work of Frazier Hunt in the war.

"Spike" was the editor of the 1908 Illio and is now special correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. He has seen service on both the western and the eastern front, and should have some great tales to tell at Homecoming next year.

Lieutenant Mike Mason '16, was last seen arguing with the Military Police who had limited his stay in gay Paree to a short 24 hours. Mike had run all the way from Lacour-neau which is way down by Bordeaux and of course he did not feel like hoofing it back with so short a rest. It would have reminded him too sorely of the time when he'd win the mile at the Western Conference and after ten minutes rest start the two mile grind.

Service on both fronts was the desire of Lt. Chris Gross '17. His wish was granted when he was ordered to sail for Siberia in March, 1919. He saw six months service on the Chemin des Dames sector with the Illini Ambulance Corps in 1917 and is now in Archangel fighting the Bolsheviki.

Many organic chemicals were imported from Germany before the war. When these stocks became exhausted, the American Universities were called upon to supply the formulas required in the making of these chemicals. Illinois, with its great laboratories, came forth and performed great deeds for the nation. Many articles were discovered, and many processes developed which cheapened the manufacture of chemicals needed both in martial and peace-time industries.

Sergeant-Pilot Everett Buckley of the Lafayette Esquadrille, who was shot down by two German planes after he had destroyed the third of their number, escaped July 1, after ten months in a German prison and reached Switzerland July 7 after killing a guard with his pocket knife. Captain "Skin," our former drum major, was having somewhat the best of the argument (probably on account of his rank) until the doughboy lieutenant sprang this definition of an artillery duel. "An artillery duel," says Robert Rea, "results when our batteries shell the German infantry, and the enemy's artillery retaliates by shelling the American infantry."

Dean Clark's War Records

Getting a touch of army life.

The War Records of the University of Illinois were started in November, 1917, when Thomas Arkle Clark, Dean of Men, was appointed chairman of the University committee on War Records. Unofficially Dean Clark had been collecting material since early in July, 1917, and this was used as a basis of the new records.

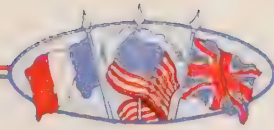

Letters were sent to the parents of all the Illini then known to be in the service asking for all available information, at the same time notices were sent to all the camps and cantonments asking Illini to cooperate with the University in compiling the war records.

At the end of the first year of America's participation in the war, Dean Clark sent out letters to the mothers of the fighting Illini, expressing the great pride which the University had in her sons who had left the University to take part in the great war. Christmas greetings were sent out in 1917 and again in 1918 expressing the hearty good wishes of the University and giving views of the campus and a brief word on life at the University.

Some six thousand postal cards showing views of campus life and activities were sent out during the summer of 1918. The replies to these various inquiries were numerous and go to make up the bulk of the War Records along with the individual's card giving names, home addresses, college, class, campus activities, fraternities and college honors. These cards also give the rank, organization and location of the men, their experiences, and a record of all letters received from them. There are also nearly four hundred pictures in the files of the War Records received from the various men in the service together with nearly 6,800 individual cards.

The most impressive part of the war records is the bulletin board in the corridor of the Administration Building where the pictures, together with a brief summary of the men wounded, decorated, or dead are posted. These form the most valuable part of the War Records of the University of Illinois.

An offer from the University to the government for the establishment of a school of military aeronautics was made in February of 1917. This was accepted and the school commenced operation on May 21, 1917. The first curriculum called for an eight weeks course of instruction necessary for the fundamentals of flying. This was later lengthened to twelve weeks of study prior to shipment of the cadets to a flying school.

Much of the credit for the smoothness with which the ground school was conducted is due to Dean

David Kinley, vice president of the University, who devoted much of his time to the institution. He was the executive head of the S. M. A. Captain F. D. Crawshaw was the head of the academic board and Colonel William F. Pearson commandant. A corps of thirty to forty officers were kept at the school to instruct the cadets in military training and take care of the records.

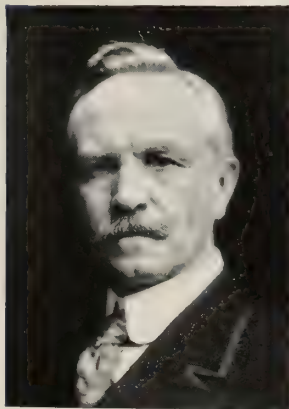

The first building to be turned over to the ground school was the Y. M. C. A. building on Wright street. This was converted into Barracks No. 1 and housed about 400 men. Here the men studied and had their mess hall. Later Bradley Hall next door was leased and converted into a dormitory. Various buildings about the campus were either turned over entirely or in part toward the prosecution of the training of the aviators for the government.

Capt. F. D. Crawshaw

With the desire of the government to further increase the size of the local ground school, the university authorities placed the new Women's Dormitory in the hands of the military authorities, immediately upon its completion in the Fall of 1917.

This additional building brought the roll of cadets close to the thousand mark, which was retained during the rest of the time the school continued. The final class of cadets was graduated in November, 1918, after the armistice was signed.

Dean David Kinley

The Gymnasium Annex was converted into a gigantic laboratory where aeroplanes was taught to the cadets. An addition to this building was erected to house the additional students.

Many college men from various parts of the country were sent to the University by the government for their training. Every effort was made by the townspeople of Urbana and Champaign to provide entertainment for the visiting cadets. It was a great means of spreading the fame of the institution and brought many eastern college men to realize what a vast institution the University of Illinois really is.

Tents were used to increase the capacity of the ground school of the S. M. A. The cool summer breezes sifting through the canvas gave hope to the aspiring aviators.

A model barrack was made out of the University Y. M. C. A. Many a flier earned the right to a machine by long diligent hours of study spent in this building.

Originally meant for women, this magnificent dormitory was upon completion in 1917 turned over to the aviation school and doubled the capacity of the institution.

Midst the quiet campus of the summer time, classes in wireless added a touch of life to the University. Rigid discipline was maintained at all times.

Originally built for war training, the gym annex was transferred into a laboratory for the S. M. A. Here were taught the fundamentals of airplane manipulation and the cadets learned their first feeling of handling the stick, even though on the ground.

Colonel William F. Pearson and his efficient staff of officers which made the University of Illinois the ranking ground school of the country.

The Students' Army Training Corps was brought into existence at the University of Illinois with appropriate ceremonies at 11 a. m., October 1, 1918, while simultaneously at 500 other educational institutions the same event was occurring. About 3,000 students were assembled in military formation on the campus north of the auditorium. With simple ceremony, the band struck up the Star Spangled Banner as the American Flag was raised on high and a new era for the University commenced.

Allegiance to the flag was administered by the post adjutant and the simple words, "I pledge allegiance to my Flag and the Republic for which it stands; one nation, indivisible with Liberty and Justice for all," thrilled each man as he accepted the added responsibilities. Messages from the President, Secretary of War, and the Chief of Staff of the Army were then read to the newly made soldiers. President Edmund J. James of the University and Colonel William R. Abercrombie, U. S. Army, Commanding Officer, made short addresses. The occasion was solemn as none present could foretell the future events, nor how soon many of the young men present would soon be called upon to offer their lives in defense of their country's ideals.

Including the Naval and Medical sections, 3,411 students were inducted into the S. A. T. C. This unit sent 106 candidates to Officer's Training Schools before the armistice was signed.

Colonel William R. Abercrombie, the first commandant, was relieved on October 31. His successor was Major Irving A. Opperman who remained in command until the unit was discharged.

Within a month after plans were completed for the S. A. T. C. at the University, a second floor had been added to the armory. In this great structure were housed more than 1,500 men and the first floor was a giant cafeteria where all the men were fed. The center of the military spirit was in the armory. The long rows of cots with their spotless condition drew much praise from inspecting official who visited the University during the regime of military authorities. The early hours of morning found the youthful soldiers busy drilling under the watchful eyes of lieutenants, many of whom were college men themselves.

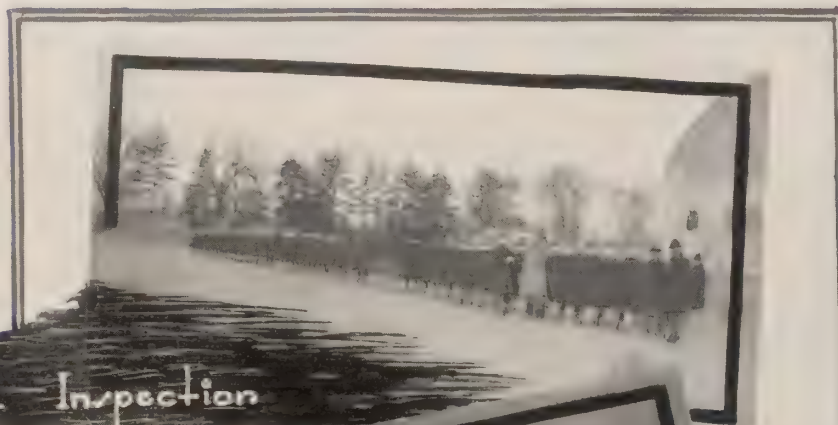

With the signing of the armistice, the necessity for the S.A.T.C. passed away. About December 1 orders were received for demobilization of the men. In order not to disturb the academic life of the University, no discharges were given until December 21, when the entire unit was discharged. The one and only pay day for the student soldiers was a memorable occasion; and those precious discharge papers were tightly clutched by the citizen student.

Dismissed!

K. P.'s we were together. We did it all: shoveled out, swept out and mopped up. Some of the pikers got to ride on the truck while the rest of us got stuck among the pots and pans. But it only lasted for one day; then a whole month of peace. When we weren't K. P.'s we were star boarders of Uncle Sam. We ate, too, even though the grub wasn't from mother's cooking spoon. Yea! Bo! We enjoyed it—those canned eggs that turned out a limp custard.

We slept in the biggest bedroom in the state. Simultaneously 1,500 of us turned to, every night at ten. Simultaneously, 3,000 feet hit the floor every morning at 5:00, (and Oh Boy! those days were cold ones). But we bunked together and liked it. We learned democracy from a practical standpoint; and some of the pals we hung onto, well, we wouldn't have known 'em otherwise.

THE FUTURE UNIVERSITY

A successful campus must be impressive enough to create favorable comment from the casual visitor. It must be arranged so that the related work of the several departments can be efficiently and congenially performed, both from the viewpoint of the faculty and of the students. And, if at all possible, it must have woven intimately into its general plan, features which will develop a genuine home sentiment among all who are workers therein.

One phase of the designing of a University campus is the grouping of its buildings, but for a State University, that is at any one time a very indefinite problem. Thirty years ago University Hall, the Law Building (then the Chemical Laboratory), and a combined drill hall, shop and laboratory building on the site of the present wood shop, were the only buildings on our main campus. No one then had even a faint conception of what we have seen materialize, and if he had, he could have accomplished little because he would have been considered too visionary. Our problem now is somewhat more definite, but we do not know enough in detail to talk about very many of the buildings of the future. The problem is chiefly one of space so that our successors may have room to develop when the time comes.

So far, we have been following the practice of the Chambered Nautilus in building successive homes to provide for our expansion, but we still continue to occupy our old ones and instead of moving in a spiral we have been following a meridian. The first campus was the present Illinois Field, with one building on the site of the baseball diamond; the second stretched to the Auditorium and we are beginning to prepare the third, which will include the one hundred sixty acres south of the Auditorium with the parade ground and horticultural gardens as important factors in its development.

What will be our next move? We don't know, but we must acquire enough land so that an orderly development will be possible when the time comes. Transportation problems for our small distances will have been solved by that time and we need not worry about distances. It may be with motor busses, or an aerial route, or even a pneumatic tube, but we will be able to cross the cemetery, where, Professor Breckenridge used to say, there are chances for study beyond the grave. I am in favor of reserving one hundred twenty acres there for our fourth campus which in the meantime would make a very beautiful golf course.

We are now working towards a definite plan which will bring order out of our present campus, and provide future sites to more than double our building space. We are also studying the extension of walks, drives, and lighting systems, and giving careful thought to locations for class memorials and other special features which will tempt us to walk along the paths prepared for us midst shrubbery and flowers. And thus besides enjoying healthful exercise, we shall benefit by an intangible influence which will be an important element in building up Illinois Loyalty, for after all, our Illinois Loyalty springs largely from the pleasant associations and proud memories of the campus life.

The moment a student leaves the University he comes into the sphere of the Alumni Association. He looks to it for help in finding other graduates, for help in organizing Illini clubs, for any information whatever about the vast Illinois family scattered all over the world. The Alumni Association arranges the reunions and other alumni affairs at Commencement, compiles and publishes the Alumni Quarterly and Fortnightly Notes, (including the war directories), the Alumni Record, and indexes of thousands of Illini who did not graduate and a separate file of the 5,000 in the war. The offices of the Association are on the third floor of the Administration Building, where all visiting Illini will always find a hearty welcome.

On April 26, 1918, the Class of 1921 presented itself in a body at the doors of the Woman's Building for the "Freshman Frolic". Over seven hundred of the class were present, with only one idea in mind—to enjoy themselves. That they enjoyed themselves is evidence by the fact that the xylophone solo and the humorous sketch planned for the wallflowers were wholly unnecessary.

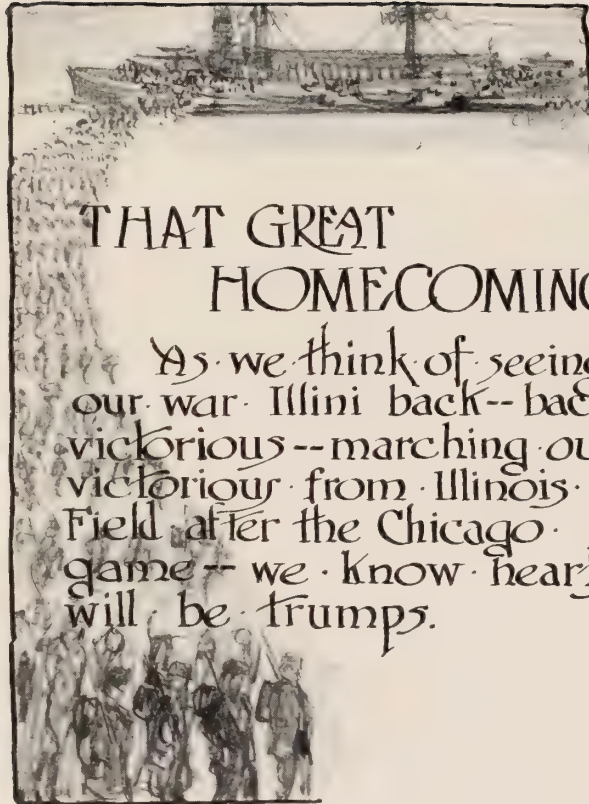

The chaperons of the Frolic were Dean and Mrs. T. A. Clark, Dean Fanny Cook Gates, Dean K. C. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Zuppke, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones, and Miss Hazel Harwood.

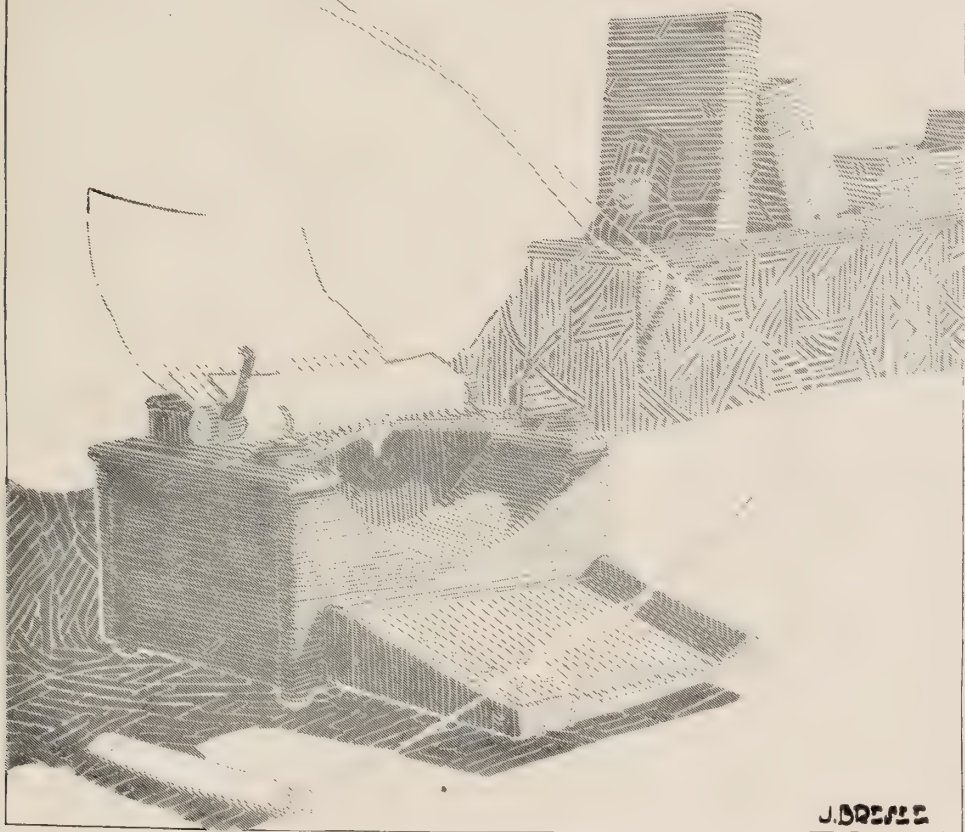

THAT GREAT HOMECOMING

As we think of seeing our war Illini back-- back victorious -- marching out victorious from Illinois
Field after the Chicago game -- we know hearts will be trumps.

PUBLICATIONS

A publication represents an inner campus world a nucleus combining the personalities of men and women who count, with the inspiration of the written word.

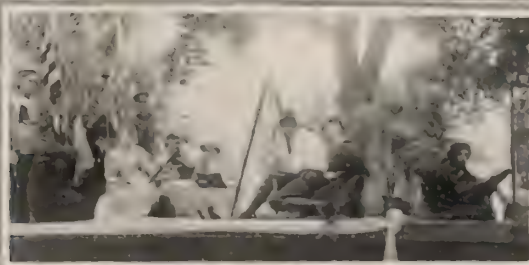

The Pageants

In the life of a university as of every large or important community certain great human ideas rise from time to time to dominate the current interest of all. So too in the work of every special college or department there rise certain human aspects of that work which demand emphasis in the attention of the University as a whole. Human ideas demand human expression, and these human ideas, these human emphases can be expressed best,—or perhaps can be expressed only by the distinctly human language of the Arts. For this purpose the Arts must be systematically coordinated as it were into one Art, so that all saying the same thing at the same time they may thereby unite in conveying the desired emphasis or message to the appreciation of the community and enable it more fully to realize its quickening and educating effect in the common life.

The work of the University Pageant Master is unique to Illinois. In making place for such a member on the Faculty the University of Illinois took its place ahead of other universities. During the past year there has been produced a body of creative work specially appropriate to the time. There were eight productions, all on the subject of the war, all in one way or another war propaganda. There were three Masques: The Sword of America; A Christman Mystery of the War; and The Masque of the Titans of Freedom. And there were five Convocations: for Illinois Day; Lincoln Day; Fourth of July; The British Educational Mission; and The Mission of French Scholars to the United States.

Mask and Bauble of the Associated University Players

University of Illinois

Mask and Bauble, like all other campus activities, has suffered severely the effects of the war. Many of last year's active members entered the service and others did not return to the campus at the opening of school. The few who did take up the work of the organization were decided to carry on some dramatics, in spite of the war and the changed conditions at the University—even if only an occasional dramatic hour could be presented to the students and faculty, the need of the drama at that time was obvious.

However, this disheartened feeling was soon dispelled with the coming of peace, because this meant the return of all campus activities. It was inevitable. The members realized that if this critical time in the organization's history could be tided over until more favorable days, all would be right next quarter.

Alumni members were called in and with their assistance two playlets were rehearsed and presented as the first of a series of plays. These dramatic hours were resorted to, entirely, to carry on the work of the organization.

"The Dear Departed" and "The Angel Intrudes" were the first plays given by Mask and Bauble since the last big spring play, "Seven Chances", March 22 and 23, 1918. The society intends to pursue the course of presenting lighter dramas until the unsettled conditions are completely eradicated. Next year will see the return of campus dramatics to its proper place on the activity list.

The Pierrots University of Illinois

Ingwerson

Taylor

Like other similar campus organizations, The Pierrots have been curtailed to a great extent during the regime of the past year by loss of members and chiefly because of the diverted interests of the student body to important war work and war activities. Even with these hindrances, The Pierrots were able to originate and give a very successful vaudeville show last spring. This idea, it is hoped, may be established as an annual affair under the sponsorship of the club.

After the abandonment of the Students' Army Training Corps The Pierrots reorganized and immediately laid plans to re-establish the Student Opera and Vaudeville in the University. It is their plan to produce a vaudeville this spring and next year to also revive the opera.

It is the purpose of The Pierrots to establish more firmly than ever the lighter dramatics in the University of Illinois.

Oratory and Debate Section

BIRD'S EYE view of forensic history during the last ten years at Illinois shows a period of brilliant successes attained during the last few years, which have completely outweighed the period of defeat and gradual improvement which was noted in the first portion of the ten year review.

Of 41 collegiate debates in this period Illinois has won 21. She has won 6 out of 7 debates with Wisconsin; 1 out of 4 with Michigan; 4 out of 7 with Iowa; 4 out of 7 with Minnesota; 2 out of 6 with Ohio; 3 out of 6 with Indiana and has lost 3 to Nebraska.

Five years ago she was at the bottom of the ladder, having lost all debates in 1912-13. From that point there began a climb culminating in the successes of 1917-18 when out of 8 inter-collegiate debates with Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan, she won 7. In that year Illinois won 3 and tied 1 of the 4 league championships. No university in the country rivaled the forensic history of Illinois last year which held no defeats.

Laurels have also been won in oratory, Illinois having placed in every Northern Oratorical League contest during the last five years.

Growth in attendance and interest in debate contests has been unprecedented during the last few years. Until recently an audience of 100 or 200 would gather to listen to a debate at Morrow hall. Last year the debates were held at the Auditorium before audiences of 1200 and 1500, notwithstanding the decrease in enrollment due to the war.

Illinois is noted for its athletic coaching staff, a better than which it is said has not been gathered together by any university. The same is true of her forensic coaches. If Illinois has been successful in recent years on the platform, it is because of the work of Mr. Sarett, whose efforts have given to Illinois a group of debaters that are feared throughout the whole of the middle west, and because of the work of Mr. Woolbert who has coached the Illinois representatives in the N. O. L. Both of these men are recognized in the fields of debate and oratory as the peers of any, and they are undoubtedly the G. Huffs and Robert Zuppkes of forensic affairs.

As a great part of forensic activity has been done away with this year because of the interruption occasioned by the war, the attention of the board has been directed to the Northern Oratorical League work and the resumption of forensic activity next year.

The '19 senior prize cup, offered the member of the graduating class who ranks first in forensic work, was this year awarded to Galen Victor Knight.

In 1918 two cups were awarded, one going to each of the men ranking first and second respectively. The winners last year were Edward B. Hayes and Truman G. Searle.

Senior Ball

On June 19, 1919 comes the first formal dance since the war—the Senior Ball. Promptly at nine o'clock the Grand March, led by President Remley and Marie Cronin, followed by Chairman Howe and Margaret Hunter will begin, and from then until two o'clock and seniors and their friends will dance. The orchestra, the food, and the decorations are all being planned with great care and the dance bids fair to be a fitting climax to the social life of the University during the past year.

Junior Prom

The fragrant mystery of the Orient dominated two hundred happy couples who made up the party at the Junior Prom, held in the Gym Annex April 11. The interior of the hall was forged to represent a typical scene in old Japan, and various devices were employed to carry out the illusion. Booths were Japanese tea rooms, programs were of oriental design, and a gentle aroma of the far east permeated the hall. It was the first formal dance since the outbreak of the war.

Sophomore Cotillion

This year's Sophomore Cotillion was a valuable factor in changing the University from a camp to old Illinois again. The affair was held in the Gym Annex April 4. The Annex was decorated with evergreens and palms, and orange and blue bunting. The booths were separated by walls of palms, and all of the pillars were covered with evergreen. The grand march started at 8:30 o'clock and the Sophomores danced the last dance just before 2 o'clock.

WAR SERVICE PLEDGE

FROM THIS DAY FORTH, I PROMISE MYSELF TO PLAN MY LIFE FROM DAY TO DAY IN THE LIGHT OF WAR SERVICE: WITH THOUGHTFUL DISCRIMINATION BETWEEN ESSENTIALS AND NON-ESSENTIALS; TO DEVOTE MY BEST THOUGHT AND ENERGY, AS WELL AS MY TIME AND MONEY, TO THE CAUSE FOR WHICH WE ARE FIGHTING: AND TO FURTHER BY EARNEST EFFORTS IN MY COMMUNITY A SPIRIT OF COOPERATION AND A WIDESPREAD ALERTNESS TO OUR COUNTRY'S CHANGING NEEDS. ☁ ☁ ☁ ☁ ☁

War service pledge taken by all University women.

The spirit of the War Service Pledge has dominated all activities of the women of the University of Illinois. The cooperation of University women in the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., United War Fund and Liberty Loan campaigns demonstrated their willingness to give "thought and energy as well as time and money to the cause."

The Woman's War Relief Committee, through food sales at dances and games, womens' mixers, pledges of three cents a week from every woman, and especially through the success of the Mardi Gras, a carnival held in the Peach Orchard last spring, was able to donate funds to several causes. A pledge of $1,000 was made to the United War Fund, $600 to the Red Cross, and $600 to the Y. M. C. A. The University Red Cross and the Armenian Relief received substantial aid. Illini in France were supplied with chocolate and tobacco, Christmas boxes and Smileage books. Five fatherless children of France owe their support to the efforts of the War Relief Committee.

The Woman's League Auxiliary to the Red Cross began work in October, 1917. Three hours every day a workroom in the Woman's building was opened, where several hundred women devoted themselves to the making of refugee garments and surgical dressings. Over 15,000 dressings were turned out besides many refugee garments, knitted articles, and scrap books for soldiers.

MISS ISABEL BEVIER

Professor of Home Economics and Director of Courses

Miss Bevier is widely known throughout the United States for her cooperation with the Food Administration and her practical ideas on food conservation during the period of the war. She was responsible for organizing the state in a way which enabled the women of Illinois to receive the messages of the Food Administration. During 1917 Miss Bevier, at the request of Mr. Hoover, took charge of the Home Conservation Division of the Food Administration in Washington, D. C.

The Season

More championship watchfobs for Zuppke and his football team and the high satisfaction of His Majesty, The Illinois Fan for the first time since 1915, when Illinois and Minnesota halved the honors of the race. Wrestling the title from the Buckeyes, who held it for the two intervening years, was easy. Chick Harley and Stinchcomb were gone.

Regarding Michigan's contention for a part of the honor, because she defeated Chicago and Ohio, The Chicago Maroon says: "On relative scores made against Chicago, Illinois had the better team. Michigan made but two touchdowns against the Maroons, on four first downs; the first score coming as a result of a "Break," in the shape of a blocked kick. Illinois had much less trouble in running up a larger score, and displayed the smoothest attack seen on Stagg Field last season."

Coach Jack Wilce of Ohio said: "We met both teams and there is no comparison. Illinois is by far the better." Besides Michigan won only two games, while Illinois took four by decisive scores.

Illinois started weak, defeating the Chanute Flyers 3 to 0. The team was green and composed entirely of new men, except Captain Burt Ingwersen and C. E. Lovejoy. Next came the powerful Great Lakes and Municipal Pier elevens, each defeating the Orange and Blue by a 7 to 0 score.

The sailor elevens were a godsend. "Just exactly what we needed," said Zuppke. The chaos and greenness, which had prevailed, faded away, and a powerful, machine-like eleven emerged.

In the first Conference game at Iowa City, perfect forward passing and machine-like teamwork centered around a back field of stars, returned Illinois victors by a score of 19-0. And the Hawkeyes had already been picked as Conference champs.

Wisconsin was next on the roll of the vanquished. Outplaying the Badgers and using an end shift formation, which remained a puzzle throughout the contest, the Indians shut Wisconsin out 22-0 on Camp Randall at Madison.

It was the proverbial, cold wet day when Ohio came to Urbana to defend her title, but her hopes were blasted. Playing with speed and brilliancy, executing their strategies with a masterful precision, Captain Burt Ingwersen and his team outclassed the Buckeyes, shoving them down into defeat for the first time since 1915. It's a pleasure to remind the Illini that the score was 13 to 0.

His Majesty, The Illinois Fan, spent a pleasant day in Chicago at the Midway slaughter. The day was cold, the gridiron was a veritable skating rink of ice and snow; but what did he care? Illinois clinched her claim to the championship by running up the biggest score that any Illinois eleven ever made against the Maroons. The count was 29-0.

The choice of Ingwersen as captain of the All-Conference team, Mohr and Kirkpatrick on the first team, and Bucheit and Hanschmann on the second eleven was Eckersall's recognition of Illinois superiority, while Walter Camp placed Depler at center on his second All-American team. Hanschmann is the only man who will graduate. Assistant Coach J. C. Lindgren predicts a team next fall commensurate with the great Gopher eleven of 1916.

Chicago makes costly fumble near Illinois goal line. Note the snow and ice nothing could stop the Indians. The score was 29-0

Captain Ingwersen was shifted from center to tackle, but he knew enough tricks of the game to be made All-Conference Captain at the new position.

Bill Kopp, the new captain, is a player of note and has bucked several lines.

A sailor of Municipal Pier tackles Ralph Fletcher. The Pier eleven led by Leo Klein and Harry Schlauderman, former Illini, was too much for Zuppke's green team. If it had been later in the season it would have been a different story.

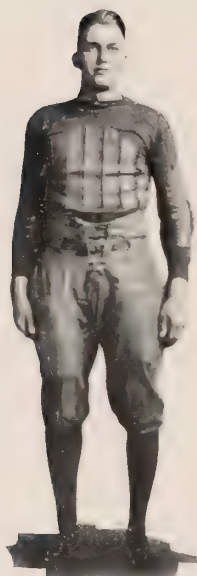

"Add Famous Comebacks"

This was Ernies second year at end

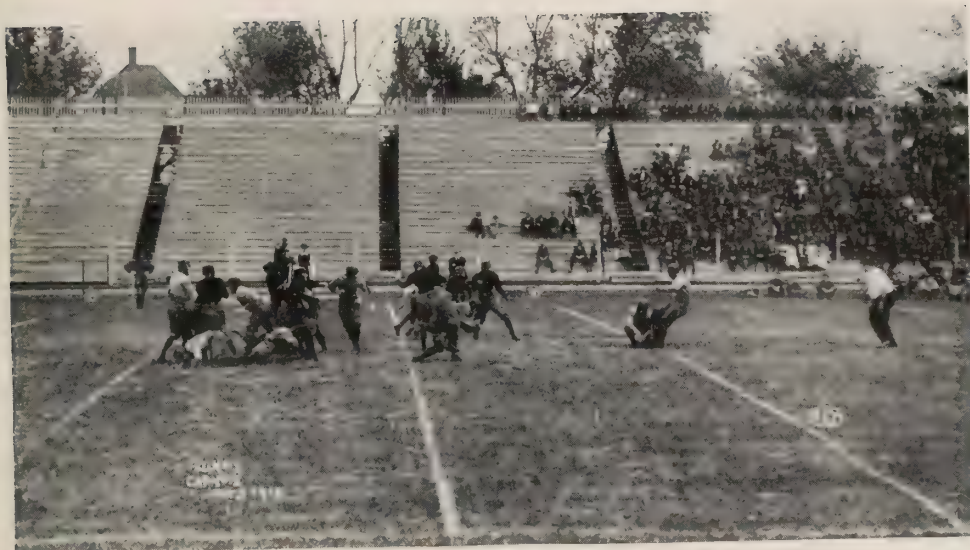

A Great Lakes man intercepting a forward pass from Lovejoy to Sabo. The score ended 7 to 0 for the Sailors, but the service champs had a battle they'll remember.

Bucheit is one of Illinois' greatest ends

Olander was a big scoring factor in the overwhelming defeat of the Maroons.

Here you behold Piggy Leitch firing the gun, which defeated the Chanute Field eleven 3 to 0 in Illinois' first game of the season

Depler's work at center won him a place on Camp's Second All-American.

Leitch also could run interference from guard - a rare accomplishment.

Bob Fletcher signalled for a fake place kick, but Great Lakes was wise to the trick and tackled Walquist in his run around left end

Besides being on Eckersall's All-Conference team, Kirkpatrick was the first to count in every game.

Chanute Field makes a wild place kick from Illinois' 30 yard line, the ball going out of bounds near the 15 yard marker. Ships circled over the field during the entire contest, but failed to inspire their hopefuls enough to put it over

Ralph Fletcher's stellar work in the Maroon whitewash won him much publicity in the Chicago papers.

Sabo was another of Zuppke's four famous halfbacks.

Illinois makes first down against the famous Great Lakes eleven. The battle was stubborn, but more experience and greater confidence won 7-0 for the Sailors Carney has three more years to play. Zuppke says he will be a great end.

Mohr made the All-Conference team and also has three more years to serve.

Another heap of intermingled Illini and Sailors. We don't know who fumbled, but Bill Kopp is going after it and he probably got it

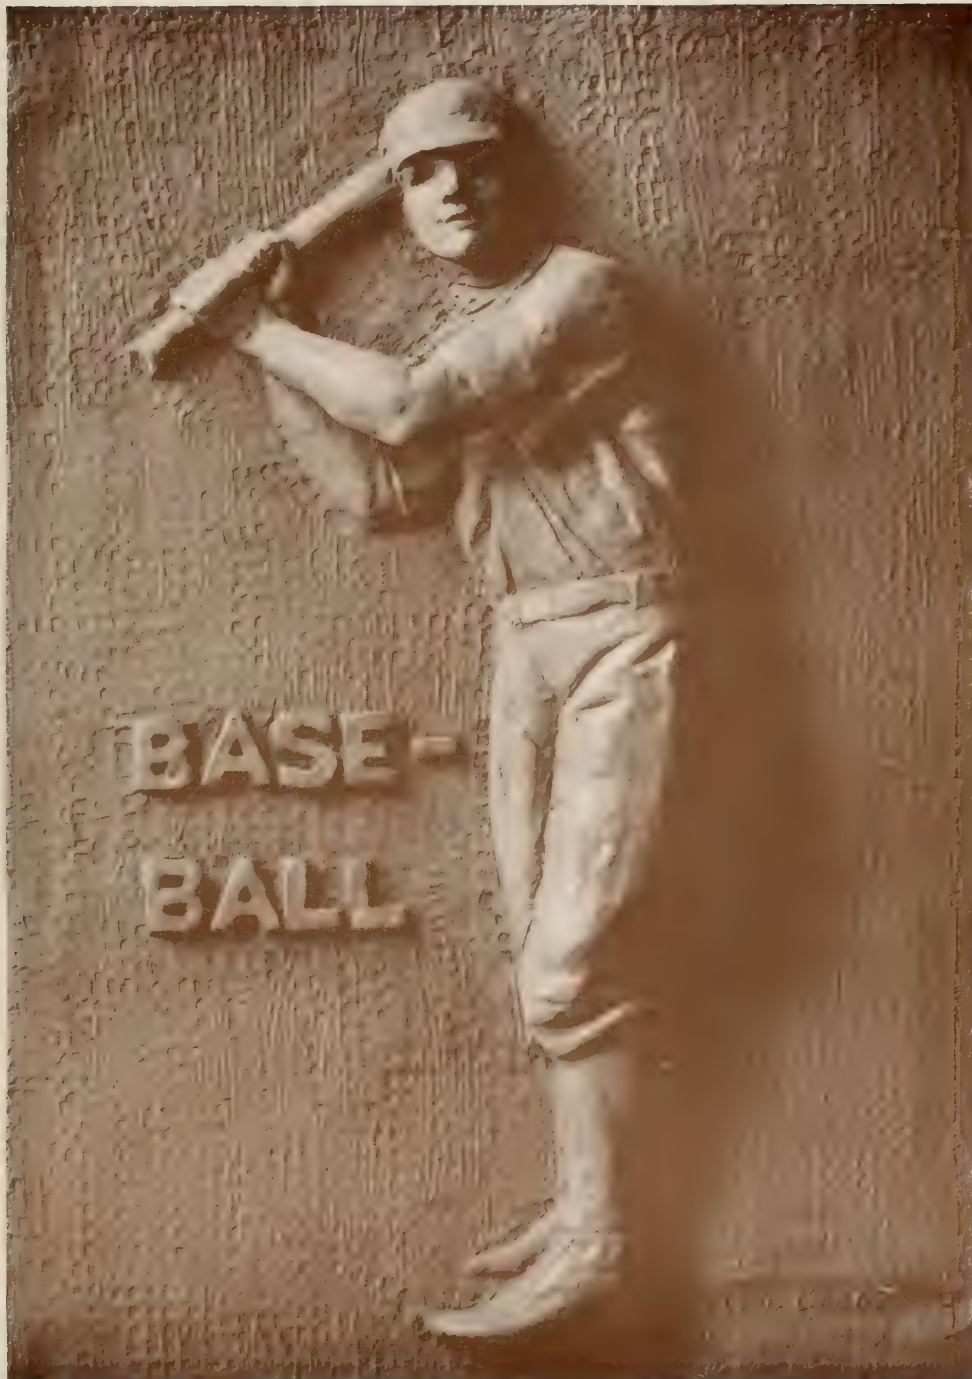

Bob Fletcher's greatest asset is his head

Jake Lanum was always good for a gain through the line. Like Kirkpatrick he is also a kicker of note.

The Season

Michigan won the flag with Illinois trailing along in second place, as she did two years ago with Ohio State. There is no alibi other than that the Wolverines simply had the better team. Leo Klein and Lalor were the only veterans "G" had, and they were too small a nucleus from which to build a championship nine.

"G" issued his first call for practice in February, again using the New Armory for indoor practice. The southern trip, as it has for years, proved a big drawing card. After the knife had fallen a number of times and the day arrived for the nine to start south, the following men found themselves on the traveling roster: Klein, Peterson, Wrobke, Edwards, Ingwersen, Kopp, Johnson, Barklage, Krupar, Lalor, Yelton, Kissinger, Haas, and Doss.

Two games were played with each of the following schools: University of Mississippi at Oxford, Miss.; Mississippi A. & M. at Starkville, Miss.; University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa, Ala.; and the Southern Presbyterian University at Clarksville, Tenn.; Illinois won five of the eight contests, dropping one game to Mississippi A. & M. and both games to the University of Alabama. Coaches Huff and Jones reported that all the teams played were of Conference caliber and so an immense amount of good was realized from the pre-season trip—a trip which is entirely unique among Conference institutions.

The nine made a good start in Conference baseball by defeating Ohio State, the 1917 Conference champions, 4 to 3. The credit for this went directly to Leo Klein, who was unhittable in the pinches, allowing but two hits during the game. The glory of defeating the champs, however, was short-lived, for on the return trip from Columbus, the nine stopped off at Lafayette to be entertained by the Boilermakers, and were defeated 3 to 2. Then began a period of apparant invincibility. Iowa, Chicago, Purdue, and Wisconsin fell before the Illini batsmen by decisive scores. It seemed as if the flag would return to its old Illini pinnacle. But Michigan was the stumbling block. In spite of all Leo Klein could do, they defeated us at Ann Arbor 8 to 4, and again at Urbana, 6 to 2.

Much of the credit for the success of the team must go to Leo Klein, who is unquestionably one of the greatest pitchers ever seen in action on Illinois Field. His greatest asset besides his pitching ability was his coolness. The situation, as it was in many games, of having the bases full with none down, was no more baffling to him than if there were two down with a man on first. Paul Doss, according to

"G", was the best all around player on the team. He led the nine in batting, besides being an excellent fielder. Bill Kopp finally came into his own behind the bat after being shifted from one position to another. Kissinger for his bunting and fielding, Ingwersen for his steadiness at first, and Krupar for his alertness at short are others who deserve a good word.

From a bunch of green men, "G" developed a fighting team that deserves a lot of credit. Going up against more experienced rivals, their fight pulled the Indians through many a tough scrape. The fielding of the nine was flashy in spots but as a whole was consistent. Few errors were committed at crucial moments, showing that the men were cool.

Mitt Lalor was the captain-elect, but as he is in the Army overseas, he will not be back for the coming season. With Ingwersen, Doss, Wrobke, Edwards, Kopp, Kissinger and Barklage and a number of good players from the 1918 freshman varsity in school, however, prospects look bright for a 1919 championship nine.

The resumption of school on its old basis should find the stands of Illinois field again filled when the games are played this year. High class ball has always been played by the varsity and with some keen competition in sight this spring, the interest in the diamond sport should find a revival of the old spirit. A good start has been made by the squad in the early spring training and although the old southern trip has been postponed for this year, the practice games on Illinois field have shown that the 1919 team has promise of championship calibre.

Ray Haas tallies one for Illinois in the Michigan game

Captain Leo Klein was an unusual mound artist.

Captain-elect Lalor will be missed this year at third.

Burt Ingwersen after a Wolverine at first, but their onslaught couldn't be stopped Fraternity baseball was all Ray Haas had ever played, but G. Huff brought him out.

Paul Doss was a batter par excellence

It was such hits as these that enabled the Wolverines to treble on the Illini, even though Bill Kopp was on the job at the plate

The above mentioned Kopp poses for a picture.

Burt Ingwersen was the smiling first sacker.

This was Burt Ingwersen's favorite way of knocking out the Hawkeyes at Iowa City

Wrobke gives promise as another mound artist.

Kissinger, though diminutive, could play ball.

Barklage up to bat in the Iowa game. It must have been a run for the score was 3 to 0

Barklage had a fascination for second base.

Krupar hooked many a grounder at short.

Bert Edwards was a sure hit

Peterson, pitcher, went to the Army.
We missed him.

CHAMPIONS A. E. F.

Captain E. B. Hoskins '14 writes, "Thought this might be of interest especially as we just won the A. E. F. Championship. We beat the crack Navy team in Bordeaux 3-0. They had 19 straight victories and were title holders. Hope to meet the "Princess Pats" Canadian and win the championship of the Allies.

Track Season

War failed to dampen the record of the 1918 track team to any extent for several unknown athletes were developed under the undying efforts of Coach Harry L. Gill. The team was small in comparison to other squads, but due to the fact that the men showed untiring efforts the squad soon shaped itself into one of the foremost of the conference. There is no doubt in the minds of the authorities on track that Michigan had the most formidable aggregation. A brief resume of the season shows that Illinois won every indoor and outdoor dual meet, defeating its old rival, Chicago. Carroll, Lang, Kriedler, Weiss, and Wilson had commendable records. Two of the men developed into track stars who were greatly feared by the conference teams on account of their ability to get points.

The first meet of the season was an indoor dual affair between Notre Dame and Illinois at South Bend, February 23. It was one of the best dual meets of the year, Illinois winning by a 43 1-3 to 42 2-3. The best events of the meet were the 40 yard dash and the 40 yard hurdle, Carroll placing second in both events.

On March 2nd, the Second Annual Indoor Relay Carnival was staged at the Armory. Michigan won first honors, Illinois second and Chicago third. Carroll showed his ability by winning the 75 yard dash in 7 4-5. Weiss easily won the shot put by putting the ball 42 feet, 1 1-2 inches. Lang won the pole vault by going over the bar at 11 feet, 10 inches. In the all around championship, there were only two men entered, Gilfillan of Notre Dame, first and Lang of Illinois, second. Chicago entered all the relay events and won the one mile, two mile and four mile relays. The other universities except Wisconsin sent only one team. Due to conditions, most of the teams were in poor shape but they put up a good fight.

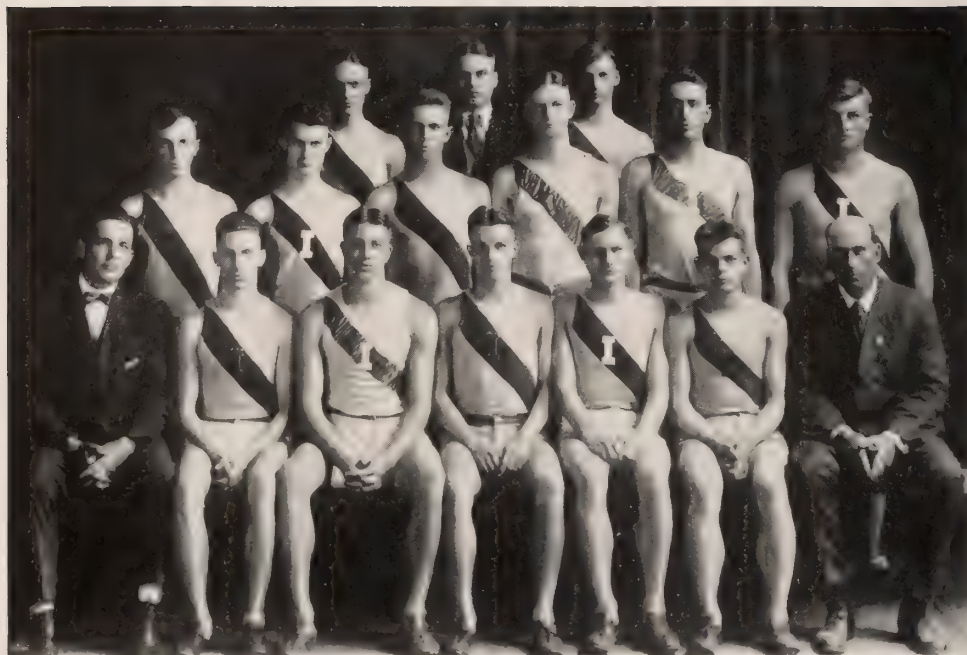

On March 24th the teams went to Evanston for the Annual Indoor Conference Meet. Illinois placed fourth in the meet, scoring ten points, Chicago surprised the conference by winning second place. There were no records broken in the meet.

In the Drake Relays on April 17 Coach Gill turned a fete by running a half mile relay team. Gill had no one half mile relay team but organized one consisting of Lang, Keidler, Emery, and Carroll. The four men had never run a relay together before. About a week before the meet the team was formed and as shown, did their duty by winning the event. Carroll placed third in the 100 yard dash.

Due to the war, Illinois did not send a man to the Penn relay games as they had done in the previous years.

On May 4 Notre Dame visited the University. Illinois showed that it had a good team and defeated Notre Dame by a score of 70 1-3 to 55 2-3. Gilfillan was easily the star of the meet, winning three firsts. Carroll and Weiss, each winning two firsts, were close seconds to Gilfillan. Weiss won both the shot put and the javelin throw, putting the former 40 feet, 8 inches and throwing the latter 160 feet, 6 inches. Chet Kreidler also showed up very well by winning the broad jump at 21 feet, 8 inches and placing second in the 120 yard high hurdles and the 220 yard low hurdles.

The old time rivalry was again shown in the dual meet at Urbana on May 10 between Chicago and Illinois, Illinois winning by the score of 70 to 64. The best event of the meet was when Carroll defeated Feuerstein in the 100 yard dash. Carroll had the race run, but Feuerstein shortened the distance so that Charlie won by only a few inches. Carroll and Kreidler were the best point getters, the former winning three firsts and the latter, one first and two seconds.

On June 8, the team journeyed to Chicago for the Annual Outdoor Conference Meet. Illinois placed second in the meet by a score of 26 points topped only by Michigan's 37 1-2 points. Michigan's track men easily deserved the victory, mainly through the efforts of Johnson, Cross, and Sedgewick. Johnson made a new record by winning the broad jump at a distance of 23 feet 11 3-4 inches. Wilson won the javelin throw by heaving the dart 177 feet, 2 1-4 inches. In track events Carroll was the only Illinois man to win a place. Wilson, Weiss, Lang, Kreidler, Pike, and Anderson placed in the field events. Illinois won the hand grenade, the team being composed of Wilson, Foster, Schuh, and Anderson.

Kenneth Wilson attained note by being placed on the All-American track team. "Tug" is certainly some heaver of the javelin.

When the season was brought to a close it was readily seen that the track team performed in a manner that could be little criticized. In only one meet did Illinois fall below second place and in all dual meets the team placed first. Unknown track athletes were developed. The men showed a willingness to work which helped to make the season satisfactory.

This shows Carroll winning the 220 yard dash from Feuerstein. Charlie beat him by the width of a breadth of his chest

Second Annual Indoor Relay Carnival

Due to war conditions, the Second Annual Indoor Relay Carnival was not as successful as the First. College teams were all shot to pieces on account of the trouble in Europe, thus only small teams participated. Michigan was easy the victor with Illinois trailing in second place. Carroll, Lang, and Weiss deserve the credit for placing Illinois in second place, for each man won one first. Illinois is now looking forward to the time when the Third Relay Carnival will be staged. It is the foremost indoor track meet in the West and ranks second in track meets to the Pennsylvania Outdoor Track Games. The results were:

Here is Charlie clearing the hurdles. Chet could not leave Carroll all the honor, so one can see that he is a close second

Chet was on the team three years winning a great many points in the broad jump, hurdles and dashes.

Pike was a fair thrower of the hammer and javelin.

Captain-elect Carroll is one of the most graceful runners of the conference. Charlie is one of the best dash men in the West.

This is Al Lang clearing the bar at 11 feet

Al is an all around track athlete. He has competed in the broad jump, pole vault, dashes, hurdles and high jump.

Here is Lang stepping them off with Charlie.

Last year was Utt's first time on the team. He performed in the high jump and the pole vault.

Here is Carroll winning the 100 yard dash from Feuerstein

Gardner has certainly been on many a long journey. Bob is a long distance runner.

Deuchler is a high jumper. We expect him to be a second Webster.

"Ken" is Bob's running mate. They traveled together last spring.

Weiss was the strong man of the team. He just threw the discuss for one hundred and thirty feet

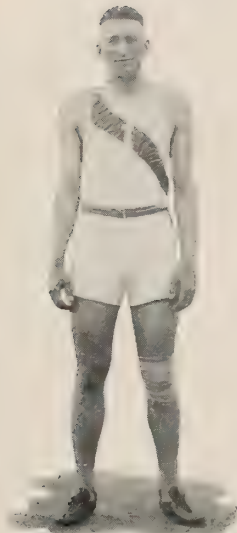

Bob is a new man on the squad. Great things are expected of him this year.

This shows that Bob is second best.

Weiss certainly did his share in getting points. He is feared as a weight man.

"Tug" made a name for himself as a javelin thrower. He is a good soldier because of his ability to make five hits out of five.

"Andy" showed his ability to hit baskets, but he also hit the grenade ring.

Troster served in double capacity as grenade thrower and track manager.

Charlie ought to be able to outdistance his grenades for he is some distance man.

To have the Gym Annex back for basketball after nearly two year's use by the United States School of Military Aeronautics was a boon to His Majesty—the Illinois Fan. (Picture snapped at the close of the Minnesota game).

The Season

Amid a season beset with reverses and numerous complete upsets of the dope bucket, Illini basket men finished in fifth place in the Conference race. Prospects at the inauguration of the season appeared good for a winning combination with Captain Burt Ingwersen, Mittelman, Probst, and Taylor, veterans of the 1918 team, reporting for duty. And when Wilson returned and came out for the team, Illini stock took a big boost.

Contrary to expectations, however, the season developed into a sort of "one for me and one for you" affair. Losing a game, winning the next, losing one, and then winning one with remarkable regularity was the trend of affairs throughout the season. Strange? But true.

And with the exception of the Gophers, other Big Ten fives appeared to be the strongest combinations from the outset. Authorities predicted a tie for the title between the Maroons and the Northmen. But Northwestern turned the trick on their neighbors by a margin of two points in Chicago's next to the last game. And then Pat Page's men made an inglorious ending by permitting Wisconsin, one of the weakest teams in the Conference to defeat them 25 to 15, thus giving Minnesota a clear title to the championship.

The seemingly weak teams were the bugbears of the entire season. Wisconsin defeating Chicago, Iowa taking the measure of Northwestern, and Purdue and Ohio State defeating the Indians. Never was a Conference season so erratic and so seemingly inconsistent with the logical results.

Because of the S. A. T. C., Illinois got off to a late start, having no games before Christmas. The team returned to the camp the next day after Christmas for practice, however, and found that the Great Lakes Naval Station had stationed their Wonder Five at Jones' disposal for training. The sailor five was composed of such men as John Felmley, ex-'18, forward on Jones' Conference champs in 1916-1917, Bill Chandler, center on Wisconsin's Big Ten champs in 1918 and member of the All-Conference selection, Bill Johnson, a forward on the great I. A. C. team of Chicago and one of the country's greatest basketball artists, etc. The training received was invaluable to Jones' five.

In the exhibition game on Friday night after the return of the students, Great Lakes was lucky to win 28-26 and only did so by a phenomenal shot by Johnson just fifteen seconds before the end of the game. Felmley was the Great Lakes star. Ralph Fletcher was the Orange and Blue shining light with seven field goals and two free throws.

Millikin was next on the Illinois card and the Decaturites were sent home under the sting of a 37-17 defeat. Illinois fans were encouraged and thought they had some embryonic champs, but the story was not yet told.

Purdue greeted Illinois here with a terrific burst of speed throughout the game and won the first Conference game 19-16. Tilson with his keen eye for the basket got the Illini jinx to working and the victory went back to Lafayette.

But Illinois retrieved herself with a 25-20 win over the Buckeyes. The game was rough. Fouls were in vogue, slugging was frequent, thrills were plenteous, all adding to the excitement of the contest. Jones had a five man team on defense, offense, and team work that night.

Feeling haughty Jones took his family and started on the northern invasion. The first stopover was Madison. Flashing into machine-like form, the Orange and Blue defeated the erstwhile Conference champs 25-15. Led by Shorty Smith and Tug Wilson, the Indians swung a punch into the Badger five which swept them off their feet. Here Tug Wilson established his name in Conference circles with six field goals and five free throws to his credit.

But at Minnesota, it was a different story. Merely the name, "Minnesota", has become a rather formidable expression to Illinois teams. The game was swift and clean throughout, but a run of baskets in the second half put the game safely on the Minnesota shelf, the final score being 36-17. Captain Ingwersen was the only man who could consistently match and overthrow the Gopher attack, while Wilson and Taylor were the chief scoring factors.

With two wins and two defeats, it was time for another victory. The Indians journeyed to Ann Arbor for the first Illini-Wolverine game in years and put on a real exhibition of basketball for the throng of Maize and Blue fans, defeating the five across the lake, 23-17.

Burt Ingwersen, captain and guard. Burt was one of the scrappiest players in the Big Ten.

Tug Wilson, the rangy center. It was Tug's favorite sport to toss a field goal, when points were needed. He led the team in scoring.

With the victory over Michigan, according to the schedule, fate decreed another defeat. The Indians met the Maroons at Bartlett Gymnasium in the next contest. It developed into a rough clash, but Chicago had the edge in scoring and guarding. The Maroons forged ahead in the first few minutes of play, although every point represented much hard struggling over the floor. Illinois failed on numerous shots in this time. The first half ended 11 to 7 for Page's proteges. The second half was a rough and tumble period, with Illini forcing the issue and Chicago defending in brilliant fashion. The final count was 17 to 12 for the Maroons.

Time for a victory. Wisconsin came to Urbana with a greatly bolstered up team, but lost 16-14. The Illini led all the way, although the Badgers made a desperate finish climbing up to within one field goal of tying the score.

The Boilermakers at Lafayette were the next opponents, the Indians defeating them 25-17 in a brilliant game. Here the best teamwork of the year was displayed. But we'd had two victories and by past performances, two defeats in succession were due.

Ohio administered the first of the couple to the tune of 32-15 at Columbus on Monday night after the Purdue game. The old fault of poor basket shooting was evident in this contest, the Buckeyes holding the Illini forwards to two baskets in the game, most of the points coming from foul goals. Weltner and Nemecek were the Ohio heroes.

Chicago was next in order, copping the game at Urbana by a two point margin. The scrappy Indians outfought the Maroons throughout the game, but a number of long weird Chicago baskets cost Jones the game. The teams were never separated by more than four points, Illinois leading at half time 10-9.

When the Minnesota team trotted out on the floor at the Gym Annex for the return game, it didn't look so formidable, but it was perhaps the fastest and smoothest working team ever seen in action on the Illini floor. Illinois fought hard to keep the score down, but were unable to break through the strong defense, which Dr. Cook's men had concocted. The Illini were troubled with the old jinx of being Mittelman kept all opponents guessing with his dribbling and clever passing.

This was Paul's second year on the five. His eye for the basket was often uncanny.

unable to hit the basket for scores, Mittelman contributed the sole basket. Wilson, Kopp, and Mittelman shone for the Orange and Blue. Wilson was a strong man on defense and was always on hand to break up the Gopher plays. Kopp and Mittelman each played a scrappy game and had Cook's men worried much of the time. The final score was 20-9.

Michigan came to Urbana for the final game March 10 and they came for revenge. They got it. Though never far behind the victors and having the score tied once during the second half, Illinois displayed a remarkable lack of teamwork and inability to hit the basket. This undoubtedly lost them the game.

But Illinois fans were content—they always are. Illinois teams always fight to the last and what more can be asked of any team. One of the pleasant things of the season was the return of the Gym Annex for basketball games after the demobilization of the School of Military Aeronautics. Another was the introduction of an Illinois Union Jazz Band at the last three games. It kept the crowd in good humor and proved more satisfactory for such purposes than the regular University band.

Captain Burt Ingwersen and Tug Wilson were the only men who played in every game. Ingwersen played the same consistent, smashing game throughout the season as he did last year, and was a creditable leader for the Orange and Blue. Wilson regularly controlled the ball at center, was always on hand to break up opponents plays, and was the heaviest scoring man on the team, making a total of 100 points during the season.

To Mittelman, Ralph Fletcher, Paul Taylor, and Bill Kopp must also go much credit for the five's showing in the race. With Mittelman the only man to graduate and with the best freshmen varsity five in years, next year's team should be a great one. Known as "Zuppke's All-Stars" the frosh were practically as strong as the average Conference team. Surely with such men as Carney, Walquist, Sabo, and Crangle available from the yearlings in addition to the veterans, next season's team should be a winner. Wait and see.

Here we see Bill Kopp, captain-elect of the 1919 football team. He can also play basketball.

Ralph Fletcher jumped to prominence in the Great Lakes battle with 7 baskets and two free throws to his credit.

Shorty Smith, the smallest player in the Conference gave many guards considerable worry.

Swede Johnston, threw a scare into Minnesota during the last half by his quick floor work.

Collins with a little more experience will develop into a valuable man for any coach.

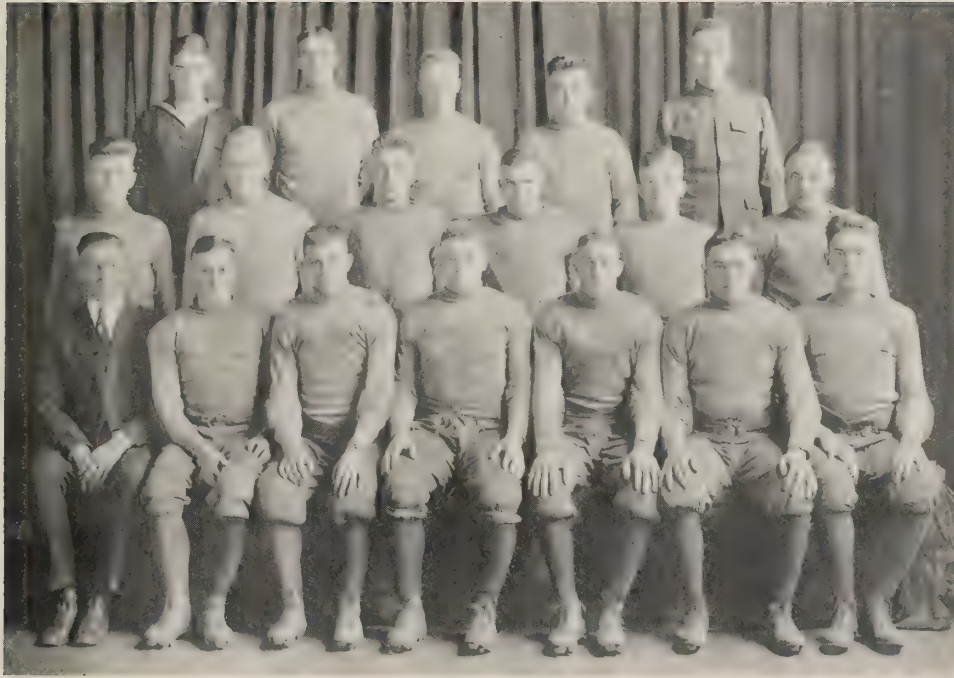

After all,
you can't beat the spirit of the Varsity—
no combat in all
the world comes up to the Big Game!

Intra-Mural Athletics

With the war at its height and the S. A. T. C. in full sway, inter-class athletics to the layman would have been a thing of the past, but not so to Coach Ed. J. Manley. The classes were so badly broken up that operation on the usual scale was not feasible, so he worked out a plan of intra-mural athletics, which became decidedly superior to the old system in both interest and number of men participating.

For the kickoff, an inter-company S. A. T. C. football tournament was inaugurated. A series of eight games were played each Sunday afternoon, two to three thousand spectators attending each one. Companies 3 and 6 came through to the finals with the highest averages and played for the championship on Illinois Field, the former company defeating its opponent by a small margin.

The S. A. T. C. was demobilized shortly afterwards, but the two upperclasses were still depleted by the war conditions that resumption of interclass athletics were impracticable. Meanwhile Cliff Barnes had been elected Intra-Mural Athletics Manager, so he and Coach Manley again came to the front with the proposal of a great basketball tournament. This proved to be the feature of the year. Two leagues were organized, one of fraternities, and one of independents. A total of more than fifty teams were entered. Much interest was evinced throughout the tournament. Iris and the Egyptian Deities were the winners of their leagues and the former won the right to the championship in an overtime contest with the Egyptian Deities five.

INTER-FRATERNITY BASEBALL CHAMPIONS

Intra-mural swimming meets, track meets, and a baseball tournament are yet to be held. And so the interest grows keener and keener and the system approaches the ideal of collegiate athletics with the greater numbers of participants. Surely the restoration of Illinois spirit to its pre-war scale is greatly accelerated by such contests.

"Chee-hee the team." Whose team?
Everybody's team

PREFACE

I.

All in the golden afternoons
Full leisurely we prowled,
Although Pop Wilske glared at us
And staid professors scowled.
Our just reward was pithy Dope—
We found it and we Howled!

II.

We howled with glee at every word!
Each ruined reputation
Each naughty tale, each whispered Tip
Increased our exultation.
We visioned every Reader's face,
Each smothered exclamation!

III.

And even as our story drained
The wells of Scandal dry
Some new detective cried in glee:
"Oh Boy! Don't pass this by!"
We swore to slight no shy intrigue
To get all Dirt or Die.

IV.

Thus grew the tale of Wonderland
Thus slowly one by one
It's quaint events were hammered out,—
And now the Tale is Done.
We amble no dark street at night
Without a hidden Gun.

V.

Mongers! Our childish story take
And with a gentle hand
Lay it where Choicest Bits are twined
In Memory's mystic Band,
Like Prexy's Daub of Old Ulyss'
Plucked in a far-off Land.

VI.

Behold our Fable, old but new,
Of Vamps, and Dice and Queens.
Of Bottles, Beer, and Sealing-wax,
Of Cabbage-heads and Deans!
MORAL: Beware! For Some Poor Dub
Is Sure to Spill the Beans.

A necklace of circular portrait medallions arranged in a circle, with a central figure at the top. The medallions contain various black and white portraits of people, mostly young adults. At the top of the necklace, there is a small illustration of a figure with horns, possibly a devil or a jester, sitting in a meditative pose with a sword or staff.

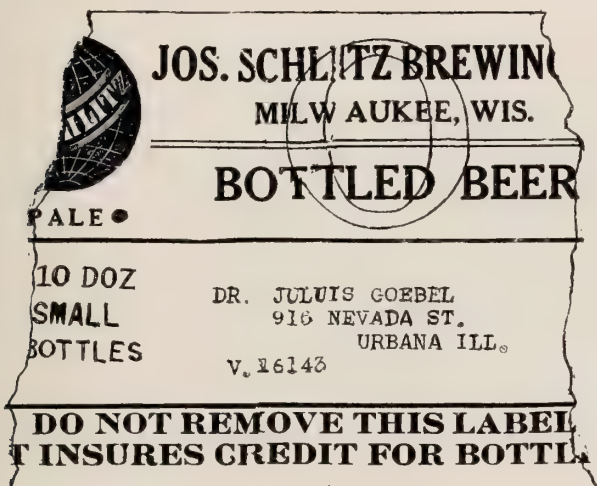

Our Roastery

*The hours we spent with these wild birds
Rewards us with ecstasy
To them we proudly dedicate
Our Roastery!
Our Roastery!
Each face a nut, each nut a joke
Oh bum and stew! Oh vamp and flirt!
We count them o'er and strive at last to learn
To sift the dirt
ffi ? ! z , ' : ; & Qut
To sift the dirt!*

RUBY'S ADVENTURES IN WONDERLAND

Ruby was beginning to get tired of Indiana University since, having subdued all culprits there was nothing more for her to do. She was about to pass a new rule against chewing-gum when suddenly the wind blew a bit of paper through the window and it fluttered on her desk.

She picked it up idly and read this ominous label:

Ruby fainted.

When she awoke she began to pack her suit-case, murmuring:

"Fate is sending me to Illinois University. I am going to Save the Lost. Lead on, Providence."

Then she jumped into a manhole and started falling down! Down! Down!

She sang softly, (and with what truth she was to discover later)—

"It may be I nearer H—Than I ever was before."

Something in the thought reminded her of the Thetas. And here Ruby began to get sleepy and went on saying to herself in a dreamy way:

"Do Thetas like Betas?" and even, "Do Betas like Thetas?" which was of course absurd.

Ruby landed in a cemetery; she thought it a pleasant place until she perceived five young women in the most outrageous attire wading in the dredge-ditch.

"Pardon me," said Ruby, faintly, "Are you from the 'Follies' or the 'Winter Garden'?"

"I'm glad you thought we were," replied one, "We have always tried to pledge that type, but often they are more like the back row of the chorus of the second Orpheum circuit. We're Chi Omegas—U. of I., you know."

*"Standing with reluctant feet
Where the brook and river meet
Chio—— are hard to beat."*

Under every tree Ruby saw smiling youths and maidens.

Four Hundred Fifty-eight

The dear girls who told us that last year's roast section embarrassed them will faint at this page. And we're barely started.

Ruby remembered having seen a Y. M. C. A. hand-book which said, "Resolved that strolling on the south campus, or other unfrequented places after dark is unwise," and she was in hopes as she strolled on that she would meet no more "unwise" couples. Imagine her horror at coming abruptly upon this scene.

And softly through the trees came a chorus of men's and women's voices, singing the official college song:

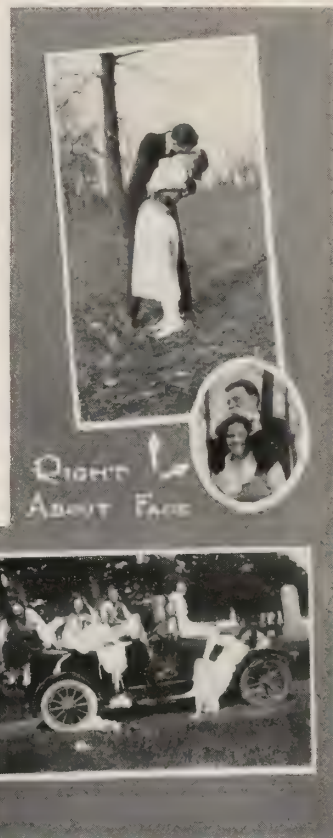

HAIL TO THE CAVEMAN

Hail to South Campus,
Hail to Crystal Lake,
Hail to the Wiener Roasts,
They take the cake!

Hail to old Brownsfield,
Hail to Cottonwoods,
Hail to the Lonesome Spots
They've got the goods!

(Harmony)

We love no other
So let our motto be
"Victory far away
From Dean Ruby."

"I heard they were revising their song-book," said Ruby.

She ran at full-speed along the path but could not avert her eyes before she saw carloads of Alpha Chi Omegas.

"Shocking! Shocking!" cried Ruby beginning to weep. She arrived at dawn at a charming little park marred by but one couple whose presence at daylight it was difficult for her to explain. Meeting an Urbana policeman who was just appearing along one of the paths, she heard him say:

"She dwelt amid untrodden ways
(Nobody home—above—)
A maid whom there were few to date
One Kappa Sig to love.

A Chiolet in a mossy home
Half hidden to the eye
Fair as a doty when only one
Is shining in the sky."

She dwelt alone and few can know
Where Wanda died and when
But she can row a boat and oh,
The difference to Ben."

Four Hundred Sixty

Brutal comment of art critic: "Take that guy out of there and that picture would be artistic."

"Surely," moaned Ruby, "The young women of Illinois are not in the habit of frequenting this place?"

"Huh," said the policeman,
"Ride for a lark to Crystal
Lake Park
To see the fair co-eds who spoon in the dark,
Pi Phis and Chi O's and gay
Alpha Z's

And several Thetas sometimes if you please!"

"How does it happen," Ruby, "that you speak in verse?"

And the stalwart policeman replied:

"As a University janitor
With much rejected verse I met—

I emptied all waste-baskets for

Bob Whitford and Suratt."

But Ruby was writing in her note-book:

WATCH THESE

Chi Omega

Pi Beta Phi

Alpha Xi

Kappa Alpha Theta

"I passed some Alpha
Chi's," she remarked, "Must
I add them to my watchful, waiting list?"

The lyric policeman answered in a sonorous voice:
"Let me not to the reputation of Alpha Chi's
Admit impediments. Yet Alpha Chi's are not Alpha Chi's
Who falter while the faltering is good
Or keep the regulations as they should.
Oh no! They are not keen about a shark,
And many a doubtful maiden have they taken;
For I myself have found them in this park!
(My faith in Alpha Chi's was sorely shaken.)
They were submerged—to rosy lips and cheeks!
They dared to leave their clothes upon the bank!
Arrested, Maud in deepest accent speaks
"Pardon, we thought it was the Swimming Tank.
If this be error and it's proved untrue,
I am a nut or else a Sigma Nu."

And thus Alpha Chi was added to the list.

"At least," said Ruby, "I can pin my faith to Gamma Phi, Alpha Gamma, Kappa Kappa Gamma and the S. A. T. C."

How sadly she was to be disillusioned! Little did she know her hopes were to be shattered, her trust ruined!

For then she had not heard the story of the Sleeping Beauties, nor the Tale of the Sirloined Letters.

When she had heard these, Ruby tore up her carefully compiled selection of sororities and took instead as a Black List a telephone directory including all sororities!

And then Ruby had these ten commandments nailed up on the Woman's Building, the Inman Hotel, and the Orpheum:

Thou must not pull the eye-brows.

Thou shalt not wear spit-curls.

Thou must resemble high-brows

Instead of chorus girls.

Thou must wear low-heeled shoes,

Thy nails thou must not shine,

Thou must not whistle, me-oh my!

Or else I shall resign.

Best not to laugh dance or sing or join a sorority.

And if you're good Perhaps you could become a dean like me.

THUS RUBY WOKE UP.

The Sirloined Letters—Chapter One—THE KAPPA KAT

The night was dark and stormy. The woman in black hurried on. The masked men leaped out from behind a snow flake. "The money!" chortled one, "I will have the money!" Ah—ah—ah" she groaned, "You! You have written me these dastardly letters!" "And you," shrieked the second villain, "you and your sisters at the steak. Sixty-six dollars and fifteen cents worth." "You lie!" she hissed. "We only ate sixty-five dollars worth. The cat ate the rest."

Miss Marion Smith, Pres. K. K. G.

We are enclosing a statement of the account of your house which should have been settled long ago but for some reason or other has not been taken care of. With your treasury and succeeded in getting a check for $60.00 on the bill time she made the payment she promised to clear up the Dean or women that she would see to the settlement of the account as we had a letter from the Dean to that effect. We would in office at that time and you can secure any further information from her.

Now won't you please look this matter up and get the account paid up for us simply must get it closed down our ledger we make for to be carrying this balance all the time.

Yours truly,
Roberts & Grant.

My Dear Miss Smith:-

The account of your Sorority amounting to $66.15 to Roberts & Grant for meat for your Sorority, has been placed in my hands for attention and collection. I am advised that this account has run for a considerable period and that Roberts & Grant feel that they should not carry it longer. Is it not possible for you to pay this account at once, or at least a considerable portion of it? I sincerely hope that it will not be necessary for me to take action in the matter to enforce collection thereof, and I therefore await your early decision in the matter.

If it is not possible for you to pay all of it at once, will you not kindly call and make arrangements to pay it as you can. We do not wish to be unnecessarily hard on your Sorority, but the account must be adjusted in some way satisfactory to Roberts & Grant.

Very truly,

The Sleeping Beauties

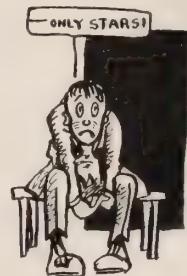

Age-old stars have looked down coldly
On strange sights at Illinois;
Revellers reeling homeward boldly,
Raucous with their stolen joy;
Phi Bates linked with T. N. E.'s;
Closet sisters on the swing,
Sentimental as you please;
Woman-haters in the spring.

These they passed with blase patience,
Thinking, no doubt, it was true
That our vaunted modern sapience
Could devise no thriller new;
Till one night in blank surprise
They blinked and left the world quite dark,
When, lo! they saw before their eyes
Three Kappas sleeping in the park.

Heavens! Horrors! Sainted sisters!
Maidens of the golden key!
Speak of it in painful whispers—
Such a scandal cannot be!
Wail, ye night winds, lamentation!
Hide, ye stars, and keep it dark!
Gone our cherished reputation!
Kappas sleeping in the park! ! !

Much I hate to tell this story;
'Tis a tale of woe untold.
Gone the ancient Kappa glory
In her maidens staid and cold!
*But the source of pain to me
In this page of history-dark
Is that stars alone should see you will not. I mean, it is better for I mean it for your good.
Kappas sleeping in the park.*

"It is a plain thing that you and we talked about very much and also the person that was with you we talked about. It was the day you entered a building and to get some business for your paper. I was in the back room then it happened and overheard several "remarks" which set me to thinking and I decided that I would do my best to put you on your guard. One thing that I heard compels me to say "DON'T BE OUT ALONE AT ANY TIME." This is the point that I wish to impress upon you more than anything else.

You may think its strange that I take so much interest in you but if you know how I felt towards you you wouldn't think that way. I'll say this: that if you ever break up with H.N. I will be on the job and I'll do my best to make you learn to love me, for beyond a doubt I love you with all my heart and have for a long time. I was a very close friend of your friend G. --- (the aviator) and he told me a lot of things about you some of which I didn't believe.

If at any time you need a friend or just help from me you can find me by wearing a dark red rose and two snow white ones all of one whole day and I will come to you that night at seven-thirty, one half a black rose for a house.

OFFICE OF THE DEAN

January 13, 1919

Mr. Harold Johnston,

Illini Office

My dear Mr. Johnston:

I have received complaint from instructors holding classes in 109 University Hall that they are disturbed by unnecessary noise in the Illini Office during the afternoon hours. Specifically it is alleged that "the conduct of the staff is inexcusably loud". It hardly seems necessary for the conduct of the proper business of the Illini that there should be any such noise or disturbance. Certainly the Illini Office should not become a place of loafing and boisterousness; at any time of day but more particularly between eight in the morning and four in the afternoon. If necessary to secure an "abatement of the nuisance", we should like to have you exclude from the Office all persons not connected with the Illini Staff and to enforce reasonable quiet while attending to the necessary business of the Daily.

Very truly yours,

W. E. Sawyer
Custodian of University Hall

Dear Roast-Editor—

I heard you wanted some real dope. You ought to have at least two pages of concentrated scandal. I can tell you some darn funny things * * * let's see * * * Well, one night I was coming by the Congregational House about two o'clock (just had a common date at Delta Gamma y'know) and there out on the porch was a red lantern. A red lantern! See? The kind they use on street repairs at night. Gosh, I laffed! An' called up the house right away—no! no! the Congregational House, not my house. The girl didn't get sore a bit. She said they were just having a dance. She didn't know who I was but we kidded along about an hour an' she gave me a date * * * Can you use it? Roast 'em good. A red lantern!

And the Inman raid. Here's the way that was—oh, that's right you said you didn't want their names. Well, it won't be any good without the co-eds names. Gosh, I thought it was going to be a real section like they had in '16. But that blamed S. A. T. C. ruined this school. What with the loots eloping with sorority pledges and photographer's wives, an' the commandant holding up the Orph shows till they could find how to make their hands coincide in order to applaud—do you want all the facts about Opperman and Nelson, Mister Roast Editor?

I'm better than Ring on that Al stuff and I can make Dear Mable look like a stick of Spearmint beside a plug of Horseshoe. I wrote nine pages in Lardner's style—all about the tripe we get down at the armory instead of food, and how the socks was so thick they'd stand up alone in the corner, and who hit Nelson with the egg, and who faked convulsions that night and the guy who said Dean Clark was nothing but a Dean anyway.

Let me know if you want: The names of the officers who left that house on Chalmers at 5 A. M. The story about Walt Remley and Ada Pfitzenmeyer.

The members of the Saintly Sisters of Gamma Phi Beta (Sigma Sigma); prerequisites for membership; who leads the way to the cellar; who teaches the novices not to make faces over their first.

Who the girls are that have been swiping military pictures from Weber's and Duncan's.

Who strolled in the graveyard south of town February 9, 1919, at 2 A. M.

That's only a starter. I'm a city directory for campus filth and my middle name is scandal. I'm enclosing a bunch of pictures and I think a little border of 'em around the page would look classy.

Yours for the Cause.

Bill

P. S. Can you use a picture of T. A. in his captain's uniform?

COMMISSION PLANS GAY PROGRAM FOR FRESHMAN WOMEN

A University and city convocation honoring the memory of Theodore Roosevelt will be held in the University Auditorium Sunday afternoon, Feb. 9. Plans for the convocation were made yesterday when President Edmund J. James met with the Champaign Rotary club, which has charge of the affair.

B. F. Harris, of Champaign, and Henry I. Green, of Urbana, will be the speakers of the afternoon, while President James will preside. Suitable musical numbers will also form a part of the program. Invitations to Urbana, Champaign, and University officials will be sent out soon.

SCENT ELOPEMENT AS COUPLE LEAVES

When James Partridge, former student in the University didn't appear at his home in Springfield on Sunday night as he had promised his parents, a phone message was received by a Champaign man to stop an elopement if possible.

Partridge who is 18 years of age had come to Champaign to spend the week end with his fiance, Miss Beatrice Lovell, a popular student of the University who resides with her mother, Mrs. M. Lovell in the Illinois apartments.

He is the son of Fred Partridge, manager of the Vredenburg Lumber Co., of Springfield.

The idea of matrimony which had been floating in his mind for some time in the young man's mind had met with his parents' disapproval because of his age. When he left home to spend the week end in Champaign, he promised to return home on Sunday evening. His plans evidently were changed for the last heard of the young man was that he was seen boarding the Illinois Central train at 6:10 o'clock Sunday evening accompanied by Miss Lovell.

The destination of the couple has not been disclosed but it has been authoritatively given out that they intend taking the "final step."

Miss Lovell is a senior in the University and a member of Alpha Xi Delta. She became acquainted with Partridge when he was a student here last year. He is a member of the fraternity.

NEXT YEAR,

This year has been a pretty strenuous one for old Chi lotta, but we have weathered the storm and the chapter is still up and coming. However, we hope that next year things will go even better; we hope that those brothers who come back will have profited by the experiences of this year, we hope they will come back with the determination to first of all do their work the very best they can, second, to make our chapter every thing it should be, and nothing that it should not be. This latter means that every brother must back up the officers and help them to uphold the laws and customs of the Fraternity; that every brother must be governed by his sense of right rather than by his desire to have a good time

Some seventy years ago, six young college men, filled with noble ideals, went to the trouble of affecting an organization that should stand for these ideals. We Fijis of today are the inheritors of these ideals and our work is to live up to them. It's a pretty hard thing to do some times, especially in these war times when the older men have gone to war, but that's all the more reason why we who remain should do our part to keep these ideals a potent factor in the life of our chapter and in our own individual lives.

NORRIS PIG DINNER

The Annual Norris Pig Dinner was held at the chapter house on March 23rd. Not many of the out-of-town brothers were present, owing to war conditions, but several were able to be here together with the local alumni and faculty brothers. Mrs. Knox prepared a grand 'feed' for the evening and we cannot thank her too much for the way in which she served the 1918 Pig Dinner.

Brother Goodenough acted as toastmaster and Brothers Prof. White "Cotton" Cushing Prof Holbrook, Charlie Thorpe, "Billy" Palmer, Prof Erb, "Babe" Bengal, Harry Klotz, Crawshaw, Ray Haas, Frank Herdman, Charles McGregor, and Mr H S Capron gave toasts. Brother Dean Kinley talked on the principles of Phi Gamma Delta and his toast was an inspiration to every Fipi present. William Brewster, Waldo Alderson, Charles Sheller, Charles McGregor, and Earl Lemanager comprised the 1921 flitch that was initiated at this time

Next to Brother E. de Pulpaes, his old friend, came the young brothers, and a long line, up to the middle of their pockets for the little money. No more kisses for the little boys. The little poor little one, which was very willingly passed on to the brothers has made its exit from the house Al boys in a sad world.

Brother Maute, along with three Chi Omegas started out the other night to hang crepe on the door of the defeated candidate in the film election. The crepe was of the new type being sold stating of one of our fair neighbors the Chuo. The expenditure was a failure, however.

Initiation

Poor Luck
 About the Thursday night of Dec. 21, 1918, the following members of the Chi Beta Fraternity, William, and Wills, became brothers.

These seven initiated neophytes thumbed through the Constitution and the Constitution, far more for night. These seven silent neophytes displayed considerable talent at the initiation. They initiated their meals with foolish antics and funny sayings, carried husky onions around and ran half way to the University and back, each day. They found out how little they knew about the University and its affairs. Finally, "convinced" enough knowledge to slip thru the examination. Wednesday night, the Chi Beta Fraternity inspected the new members. They dragged their heavy feet back, then the cold, wet, slush to cold. They claimed they had come directly taken over the city of Sixty.

HA! HA!
 At about two o'clock, Thursday evening the real initiation began. We were all forced to admit that you had to hand it to the pilgrims, they certainly ate the fire and stepped the nails like veterans. The ritual not only impressed the new brothers, but scared them with that drilling remembrance which every brother still holds. There were real sentiment in the grips that night danced with the ~~language~~ of fulfillment?

Tough Luck

Nationalization has been a dead issue by any means with the active chapter this year even though no definite action has yet been taken. As most of the Brothers know, Mr. Philip Ross, Secretary of Sigma Phi visited us last spring. Mr. Ross wrote us shortly afterwards that there was little or no chance of Sigma Phi extending to Illinois. Chero!!!

We were very anxious to see if possible some ray of hope, but this communication seems on the face of it to shatter all our expectations for some time to come, as far as Sigma Phi is concerned. The questions that present themselves then are these:

First: Whether to wait five to ten years for a change in the Sigma Phi sentiment for extension at Illinois. (It will be remembered that the Wisconsin chapter was pooled and the Michigan chapter secured after about twenty years.)

Second: Whether to investigate the ground further for a strong, old established national other than Sigma Phi.

While the culinary department of the house has not taken any phenomenal strides in the past year, it is generally understood that the Sig has the best table on the campus.

His Ruling Pride

JOHN DEERE
HE GAVE TO THE WORLD
THE STEEL PLOW

He had reached the heights of success. From an humble beginning as a blacksmith in a little shop he had become the head of a great industry.

After fashioning the world's first steel plow in that little blacksmith shop of his younger days, he had steadily developed until he had become the world's leading maker of steel plows.

His plows had been used to conquer untamed wilds in many lands. Civilization had advanced behind his plows. The world was more prosperous and happier because of his plows. Wherever agriculture was progressive his name had become a household word.

John Deere had done much of which he might well have been proud. To have risen by his own efforts from a blacksmith to a leader of industry, to have served the world greatly and to have received from the world recognition for his services—these were achievements to stir pride in the heart of any man.

But John Deere's ruling pride was not so much in the great end attained as in the great way in which the end had been reached. Reviewing his career, he felt most pride in the consciousness that he had never produced a plow of poor quality. His was the pride of the master workman.

The simple pride that John Deere felt, is the pride of the makers of John Deere implements today. It is a powerful incentive to the maintenance of the high standard to which John Deere tools have been kept for eighty years.

John Deere, Moline, Ill.

SPREAD STRAW---!!!

RETURN PLANT FOOD

INCREASE YIELD

The soil on your farm needs that plant food—STRAW—that is the by-product of every season's crop. Straw costs you nothing—it is rich in potash, phosphorous and nitrogen. Straw increases the fertility of the soil, protects wheat and other crops against winter kill, is a perfect mulch, binds the soil, stops soil blowing. SPREAD STRAW WITH—

STRAW SPREADER

This complete machine attaches to any wagon in a few minutes and is ready to spread straw. Drives and travels on its own wheels. A boy can operate it. AN EDUCATION IN COAL SAVING

During 1918 the United States Government placed a restriction on coal used by the Clay Industries of the Country. This restriction cut production to about half. Plants ran half the time. Expensive equipment was idle. Building was restricted and labor was out of employment. Coal is a big item in the Clay Industry, and this crippling of the Clay Industry saved coal of course. The Government reports showed that in six months the restriction of the Clay Industry saved 1,381,000 tons of coal, but look what it lost the industry in cash.

Sixty-four clay plants of the country furnish authentic information on their burning cost from which it is shown that if all the brick (just brick mind you) made in the United States were burned in Haigh Continuous Kilns the saving of coal would amount to 2,600,000 tons every year.

It cost six months of idleness of ALL clay plants to save that amount but it showed the possibility of saving through the use of the Haigh Kiln. Much more would have been saved if Tile, Pavers, Hollow Ware and other products had been burned in Haigh Kilns. The saving can be made EVERY year and the manufacturer gets the saving. Haigh Kilns cut the burning cost more than one half.

We will be pleased to furnish information on burning with a Haigh Continuous Kiln on request.

We build every machine and appliance for the manufacture of every class of Clay Product.

SUPPLIES FOR DENTISTS

The House of Herriott has been in business for fifty-two years. It has many friends in Illinois and appreciates the privilege of having an announcement in the Illio.

This Dental Depot offers unexcelled service because of its central location in Indianapolis. It has an unusually large and varied stock of standard goods and it is also well represented in Illinois by Mr. Martin P. Sweet of Decatur and Mr. Harry Gundelfinger of Shelbyville, who cover a large part of the State.

A first-class laboratory is also carried on in connection with this house.

Rough Roads Can't Rip the Life Out of Them

Gillette Chilled Rubber Process

Ordinarily—heat lessens a tire's resistance, cold does the same. Then the bump and bang of the road finish it up—put an all too early end to its service existence.

Now, note the difference. Gillette Tires and Tubes are produced with the Chilled Rubber Process. It strengthens the rubber toughens it as iron is toughened when changed to steel, and gives absolute weather protection. Gillettes are not damaged by cold, heat or dampness.

The result—Gillette Tires and Tubes save their strength for mileage production—they ride the rip of the roads longer and are by far the least costly.

A test on your machine, one Gillette against three other makes, will convince you of Gillette's wide margin of economy.

Use Columbia Ground Limestone

The size of the finished material is exactly right—some of it is finest dust, some is about the size of a grain of wheat, the balance ranges between these two limits. It provides an immediately available supply for the coming crops from the dust like particles. During the succeeding years, the larger particles gradually do their work, so that a single application benefits the soil for years to come, just as the best cropping practice requires. Insist upon Columbia Ground Limestone, because it is of high quality, and properly ground. The increased crops, as every scientific agriculturist knows, will easily pay for the cost of liming land, in a single season. All the succeeding increases are clear gain. Write us for further data upon this subject.

Staffords Engravings are Used in this Annual Because of Quality-and Service

You will find our Engravings in a great number of the high-class year books that are published throughout the entire United States. We have a department which specializes in making halftones, color plates, zinc etchings, art work and designs for college and school publications. We use the famous Levy Acid Blast process, which produces halftones that print far better than plates made in the ordinary way, and which greatly aids the printer in making an artistic success of his work.

In order to cooperate with our customers more closely, we have prepared a valuable book "Engraving for College and School Publications," which we loan to the staff of every publication which uses Stafford Engravings. This book contains 164 pages and over 300 illustrations, and will be of great assistance in simplifying ordering, in preventing costly mistakes and in securing highest quality engraving at lowest cost. This helpful book is not sold—simply loaned to Stafford customers.

We also specialize in Commencement Invitations; Fraternity, Sorority and Club Stationery; Visiting Cards, and other Copper Plate Engraving and Steel Die Embossing. Samples with Prices on Request.

MONTICELLO, ILL., Oct. 22 1918

Miss Marian K. Smith,
Champaign, Illinois.

Dear Ma Dam :-

Receive your bill this A. M. and am very much pleased to enclose check in payment of same.

You neglected to add the amount of the frame and while I am not positive about the amount it seems to me that it was $2.25 and I have added this amount to your bill making the total $4.80, now if this is not the correct amount for the frame why just let me know and I will send another check so you can keep on with your payments on your Liberty Bond. I have a faint recollection of seeing that amount on the bill but I might be mistaken so you look and let me know. It might be possible that when I told you I paid the express on the package that you understood me to say that I had paid for the frame so investigate and advise me.

The flop ears are clean I trust, and they have been be-having beautifully as I have not been out in the breeze lately so you see there has been some improvement.

With my very best,

The Curtain Falls

The last line for the "Twenty" Illio!

The curtain which will soon rise for you has just fallen for us, the staff. Our finale to the performance means, "The book is out and the fun is over". But no! We have still the anticipation of watching our audience from the wings—listening for its hiss or handclap.

Whatever may be your final appraisal of our book, we have been fully repaid: by our joy that first day when the Board of Trustees decided there ought to be an Illio; by the excitement of getting our Senior questionnaires the same afternoon; and later by the exhilaration of rushing the borders through, and knowing the presses had begun to rumble. Our pleasure was in daily, nightly fighting the grim handicap of time, whipping up one department, overcoming some fatal slack in another.

Cooperation! We feel sure it has never existed to so great an extent on the campus before. The book is proof of the sacrifice and willing labor which everyone has lent the Editor and his staff. Never have folks who are looked on as mere cogs by the community, spun so fast and meshed so neatly as to make themselves vital parts of the machine.

To Miss Marie Cronin, managing editor, and Miss "Betty" Barnes, art editor, should go a large part of the credit for any good features you may recognize in the "Twenty" Illio. For the first time in years, the book appears without a stroke of professional art work. It was also the first time in Illio history that women made up the general staff. Without exception their work was inspiring and their enthusiasm contagious. The section editors, including George W. Koch and B. H. Smith, the sophomore assistants—all did more than their share.

Even more unusual than the loyalty of the staff was the interest of the University at large. Mr. Harold B. Johnston, editor of the Illini, and his assistants made the compilation of the Illio possible by giving us the most remarkable publicity any enterprise has had in many a moon. The fraternities and sororities cooperated extensively in supplying pictures for the war section and in making it possible to get the organization section to press in time.

Theta Sigma Phi, a woman's honorary journalistic society, put its shoulder to the wheel and helped the war section editor collect two thousand pictures. Members of Sigma Delta Chi, particularly Messrs. Stewart D. Owen and Robert A. Drysdale, undertook and carried through the gruelling task of reading all proof.

Credit is due the editor of "The Liason", Mr. Alvin T. Anderson, of Fortress Monroe, Va., for the use of certain copyrighted war pictures.

The helpfulness of the faculty was invaluable. Dean Thomas A. Clark placed at the disposal of the war section editors his entire collection of pictures and all his files of information. In addition to this, Dean Clark many times offered his personal services—on occasions when it seemed as though we could not fight our way through. Hardly a day passed that we did not call on Mr. Carl Stephens, editor of the Alumni Quarterly; not a time were we disappointed. Many others of the faculty gave us more indirect aid. Dean Kinley, Professor Sherman, Mr. Harrington and others are on our list forever. Prof J. M. White, Supervising Architect, and his office must be mentioned appreciatively in connection with the Future University section.

We could devote this entire article to the story of the art work on the "Twenty" Illio. Mr. Charles Morgan, assistant in the department of architecture was our friendly advisor throughout. We also wish to thank Messrs. Vaughn Flannery, E. J. Lake and C. E. Bradbury for innumerable services. Always known as a great friend of student activities, Prof. Wells effected a climax this year. There were a meagre two days left, in which to get all art work to the engraver. Miss "Betty" Barnes, art editor, had worked day and night on the main section headings—one of the most important art features in the book. It was plainly evident that she would not be able to do them all. Prof. Wells was asked to help—because it had been planned to copy a portion of his latest oil painting for the "University" plate. He agreed to do it in two days. When Miss Barnes went to get the plate she found that Prof. Wells had not painted a stroke. He had cut out of his canvas—his valuable oil painting which had already been sold—that portion which was needed for the Illio plate.

This sort of cooperation made it possible for the "Twenty" Illio to be published in half the time ordinarily allowed—although there was only one man of the entire staff personnel who had had experience on the book.

The spirit of the Illio has made it worth while—however the bound volume may appear. There are hundreds of people who can review the pages of this memoir, with the thought that they helped—in small or large measure—to put it out. Perhaps, as editor-in-chief, I should thank you all personally. Certainly you have my utmost appreciation. I have been saved from failure, and helped to tolerable success—at least, there is an Illio. But it is not my book, or any person's book. It is the handiwork of the University of Illinois, and it reflects the whole-souled democracy of our campus.

The last word for the "Twenty" Illio—

Au Revoir
